OWER

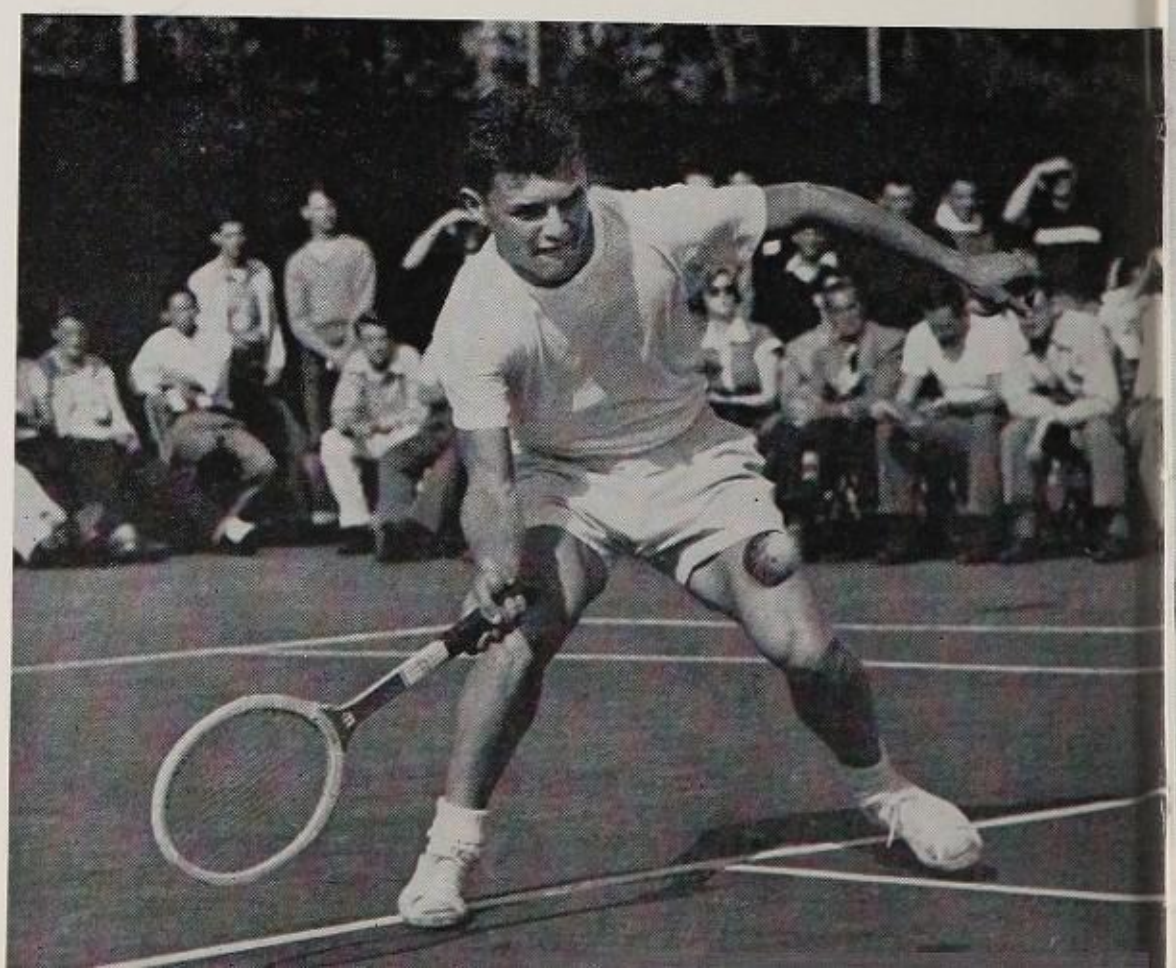
Jim Powers, S'46, one of Beverly's greatest athletes, followed through his gridiron rampage to star at the University of Southern California and is currently playing for the San Francisco '49ers.

June Haver, star of 20th Century Fox musical extravaganzas, was discovered on Beverly's stage in our 1942 production of "Ever Since Eve."

John Guedel, S'31, is presently producing nine coast to coast radio and television shows, including "People Are Funny" and "You Bet Your Life," a feat yet unequaled.

Herbie Flam, S'46, rated as No. 1 national tennis amateur, started his illustrious career at Normandy, where he captained our team to a C.I.F. victory.



Blueprint for the Future

Where do we go from here?

This is the classic question, whether we are freshmen or seniors. Where do we go from here? We, the staff of the 1951 WATCHTOWER, have prepared a BLUEPRINT FOR THE FUTURE—your future.

The alumni pictured on these pages made a reality of their patterns, patterns similar to ours; they have followed through and completed their blueprints, completed them so that each has made a concrete finished product from their once unfinished and uncertain plans.

Laying our foundations and molding our framework, we are now at the same stage of the game as our alumni once were. Life is really a game—some receive hits, some are called out, and all of us occasionally make errors.

Will Rogers, Jr., S'29, left Normandy to become owner and publisher of the Beverly Hills Citizen and Bulletin News and to represent the 10th district as a Congressman in the House of Representatives.

JANET BERGER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

It is hard to answer a problem without solving it; it is still harder to have a successful future without adequate planning. At the present our blueprint reveals many things. Think a moment; visualize our floorplan as it is now. There are straight, clear, sharp lines on the blueprint that represent graduation preparations, a victorious basketball season, and a long remembered carnival. All of our blueprint, however, is not so easy to look at, as it brings sorrow to all of us when we glance at the quivering line caused by Mrs. Floy Connors' untimely death.

Our immediate future looms up accompanied somewhat with cloud and haze. Momentarily some of us are confronted with the possibility of putting down our pens and replacing them with guns. At this point we have not yet finished our blueprint, but we have been guided in the right direction. At the moment we are prepared to continue our plans when we leave Beverly—completing our BLUEPRINT FOR THE FUTURE as we still try to answer the question, "Where do we go from here?"

Master Architects plan

Responsible for the Normandy of today, of which students are very proud, and for the realization of the school that will be the Normandy of tomorrow is the Beverly Hills Board of Education. Because of the many efforts of the Board to make Beverly Hills High School one of the finest educational institutions in the country, the students owe each member a vote of thanks.

This group of public spirited citizens gives generously its time and energy to make sure that the students are provided with a safe environment in which to work, with the finest educational facilities, and with expert faculty leadership. The scholarship standard of Beverly has always remained high, and good grades from the high school are often honored beyond those of other schools by colleges and universities throughout the country.

The Beverly Hills Board of Education has worked hard this past year to fulfill its aims. The group works without compensation of any kind, and its prime objective is to benefit the school system of this city. Members of the Board often go to the various schools in the district to see that everything is as it should be. The student body at Normandy is very grateful to the organization for purchasing the new carpet in the Friendship Room.

The board includes Mrs. Margaret Borden, president; Mr. Horace Blackman, Jr.; Mr. Joseph Long; Mrs. Margaret Meserve; Mr. R. G. Mitchell; and Mr. Howard Reynolds.

TO THE CLASS OF 1951

It is a pleasure to express appreciation and congratulations to the Class of 1951 for its achievement, cooperation, and contributions. My freshman year at Beverly has been a valuable experience due very largely to the fine spirit generated by your class.

You will find the history of the school year written in the 1951 WATCHTOWER. As the years pass, this publication will serve to bring back cherished memories of the successes, campaigns, activities, and friendships so abundantly present on the Norman Campus. The pictures of your classmates, teachers, and school will bring to focus, in the years to come, nostalgic and pleasant thoughts of a most eventful and profitable period in your lives.

Our thoughts go with you as you leave Beverly, and, "behind the scenes," we will share in your successes, your disappointments, and your contributions. Just as you have made a "Better Beverly" through the past four years we know you will find your rightful place in adult life to insure a "Better World," free of oppressions, fears, and hatreds.

Best wishes for every success in years to come. It is our hope that every member of the Class of 1951 will be proud to make known that he is a graduate of the Beverly Hills High School.

Sincerely yours,

Kenneth L. Peters

Established Craftsmen

Helping map out the future for the inhabitants of Normandy was the job of this year's counselors—Miss Edith Knoles, senior; Mr. Ed Elliott, junior; Mr. James Knauer, sophomore; and Miss Helen-Louise Aldrich, freshman. Every student confronted with a problem; such as, grades, program arrangement, credits, or future plans, was urged to consult his class counselor. Assistance was readily given to all, especially to upper classmen who were interested in preparation for college.

The sponsors helped personify the spirit of the four classes. The freshmen were supported by Mr. John Padilla, the sophomores were defended by Mr. Victor Seine, and the traditional junior-senior rivalry was backed by Mr. Charles Herbst and Mrs. Eleanor Welch, respectively.

Each counselor and sponsor had the important position of giving advice and helping to mold the character of each pupil and to help him become a better citizen.

Records and files, two indispensable objects at Beverly, never would have served their purpose had it not been for Normandy's great staff of capable and efficient secretaries. Their duties included compiling attendance and school files, printing the bulletin each day, and sending transcripts to universities. Students who showed an interest in secretarial duties learned much from Beverly's model staff.

"Supply and demand! Inflation and deflation! Higher prices!" Confronted with these problems, everyone connected with the cafeteria staff has sincerely tried to provide the students of Normandy with well-balanced meals at the lowest possible price. Although prices have risen recently, the cafeteria has managed to serve lunches at a comparatively reasonable fee.

The clean halls, polished desks, and neat class rooms of Beverly are examples of the caliber of work the custodians have been doing this year.

When one passes the campus and remarks what a beautiful and impressive school Beverly is, the Normans have a right to hold their heads up high, but at the same time they should extend a vote of thanks to the gardeners. From the tallest bush and tree to the lowliest blade of grass, the outdoor staff saw to it that everything was kept ship-shape during 1950-1951. John Sandberg, head gardener at Beverly for many years, has succeeded with his staff in keeping the greenery alive and flourishing and has managed to keep a watchful eye on the entire landscaped campus.

Every Norman should consider himself lucky to attend a school so well equipped with the finest in facilities and the tops in a cafeteria staff, custodians, and gardeners—each adding to the happiness of the Beverly Hills High School Student Body.

Future Congressmen

At one o'clock I took my position in the tower for my watch period.

As two rolled around, the haze lifted and I got into the swing of my job.

While the clock struck three, I could see that everything would not be as I had hoped, but altogether things were running well.

Four brought misunderstandings and complaints, which were later analyzed as false rumors.

Happiness appeared at five; on the field below, victory had come and with it pride for the onlookers.

Sorrow came to all in the tower's radius at six as everyone mourned the passing of Rooter No. 1, Dewey Robinson.

There was a lull at seven, but eight brought a blast of activities—games, meetings, and Senior Day.

At nine I could see the end of my term of watching. Soon it was ten. I analyzed things I had seen and things I had overlooked while on duty.

After eleven I found that success and failure were a part of our learning.

With the chimes striking tones of twelve I descend from the tower, where I have seen Beverly at work. Though I realize this tower will remain—with new watchmen and new panoramas —I leave, trusting you will view Beverly from your tower with the same feeling of pride as I have.

The winter council, headed by Student Body President Jim Morrow, was exceptionally active this year. Many projects were completed and some are still to be decided upon by the students next year. The all-important question of what to do with the grass area south of the back parking lot was finally put to a vote, and by an extremely close margin, Normans voted to have a barbecue built for the benefit of the school. As there is still some controversy, however, the question will be put to a final decision next year.

When the semester began, a 100% goal was set for the sale of student body cards. Jim and his cabinet had a sensational drive which resulted in 97% of Normandy purchasing cards.

The winter council proposed the creation of a notebook sized publication which would explain in detail all the phases of campus life. Also included would be questions and answers pertaining to Normandy, the school constitution, and things especially of interest to incoming freshmen.

An assembly committee was appointed, with Ann Martin and Pierre Mornell as chairmen. Two of the outstanding assemblies held during the semester included a professional puppet show and a film on the life of Will Rogers, which was obtained directly from the family of this famous personality.

"Beverly Comes to Town" was Normandy's theme for its home-coming week, which was climaxed by the annual Beverly-Santa Monica varsity football game and the Spinsters' Hop.

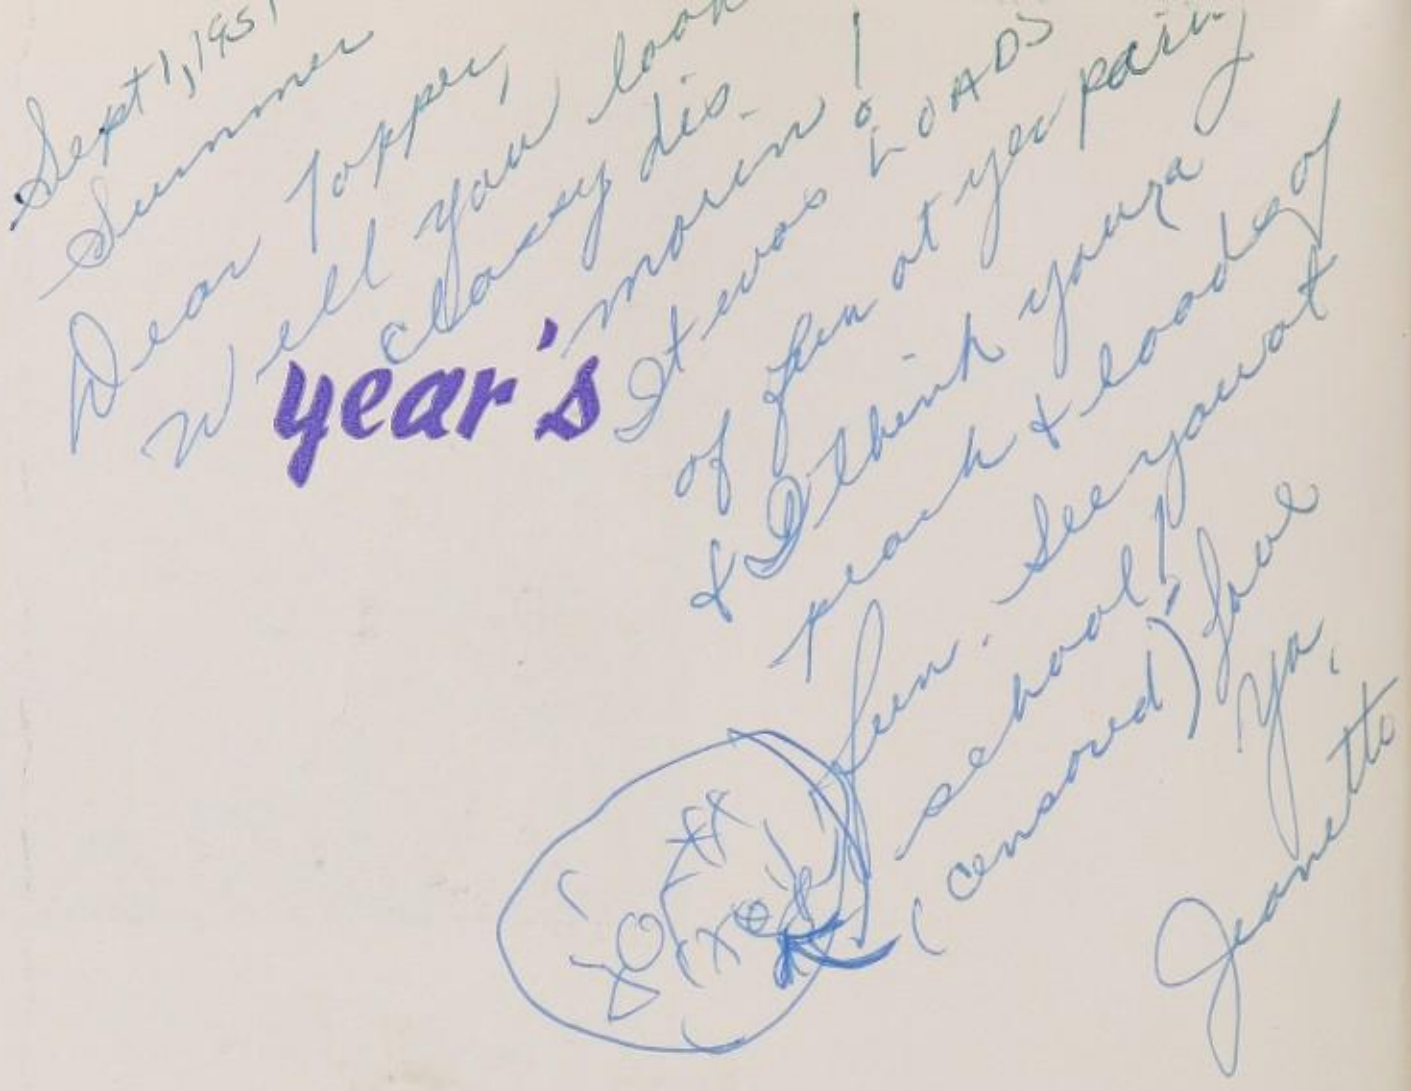
ART STAUFFER
Student Body President



It has been four years now, and we, the Seniors of '51, are ready to leave high school and venture out into the uncertain world of today. Few know the outcome of our lives—perhaps many of us will remain friends during later life; some of us, most likely, will be called into the services of our country; some will travel and never again see Beverly or any fellow Norman; almost anything is possible. There is but one thing certain. None of us will ever forget our four happy years at Beverly. We will forget names and events, but those little memories of the nervousness before the big game, the heartbreaking stillness of defeat, the Charleston or pie eating contests at the dances, our first dates, the freshman pranks, the pep rallies with our spirited little band, and the overwhelming pride for our school shall always be remembered as the unforgettable part of our lives.

As for myself, it was the highest honor of my life to be chosen to serve you as student body president. I will never forget the wonderful cooperation of the students, the booming spirit of Normandy, the advice and ever willing help of the faculty and administration, and most important, I shall never forget Beverly.

And finally, to those remaining, I would like to challenge you to live your four high school years in the best way you know. Remember, also, that the halls of Normandy are only images of every one of her students, both past and present. Our standards are high now — never let them fall.

"It is my aim and purpose this semester to unify the school into one large group of loyal, spirited Normans who are all participating in and enjoying school life," stated Art Stauffer, Student Body President.

Club unity was sought through the Club Relations Board, which was composed of the vice-presidents of every official club in school. The main purposes of the organization were to unify clubs, to lift the standard of the club program, to organize new clubs where sufficient interest was evident, and to give direct aid to the honor clubs in choosing new members.

Plans for a "C" football team were discussed in order to give freshmen a better chance in athletics. A Korean War Service flag was presented to the school by the sophomore class, and a two-house legislature plan was started.

The campus clean-up campaign was furthered by placing gummed stickers advocating a cleaner campus on all messy tables and unclean areas. A student-faculty discussion board also met during the last semester.

A new twist was added to Beverly's second annual carnival this year. Night lights and the back grass area facing the parking lot provided the atmosphere and the location.

The old ABC Handbook was enlarged and put into a more complete form for the benefit of next semester's students.

By these many activities of the Summer Council under Art, his aims to better Beverly were accomplished.

The fall activities of the Girls' League, under the presidency of Connie Weintraub, were not only varied but extremely successful. Each new girl was shown about the school and helped with her problems by a big sister, who was appointed at the beginning of the semester.

The philanthropic project for the year was devoted to the helping of those less fortunate than we at the All-Nations Foundation. Members of the committee made weekly trips to the foundation and gave parties to the children. "Beverly Plays Santa Week" was conducted as a drive to gain money for All-Nations and Albion Street.

Other League activities presented were the "Tea for Your Fashion Review," the annual Albion Street Christmas party, and the Girls' League Forum.

Ann Martin ably took over the gavel for the new semester. Luggage Day, which was held in April, was declared a huge success. When Cotton Day was presented in coordination with the Boys' League, the fellows sported Hawaiian shirts and the gals wore cotton dresses.

May 26 was the date of the "Song of the Islands," a dance sponsored by both leagues. Held in the swim-gym, the last school dance of the semester featured a Hawaiian motif.

Panel discussions on clothes and high school social life were held at the grammar schools for the "Freshmen Girls to Be." These varied activities are only samples that the Girls' League is following its program to keep Beverly better than ever.

With Mark Goldberg and Paul Rudnick leading the Boys' League in its activities, a host of projects was accomplished. Mark opened the year with the big brothers showing their little brothers about the campus. At football games committee members sold hot dogs and boutonnieres; representatives of the League recorded "Ace Club" points and operated yard markers. During the first semester the League presented five top assemblies—two films, two exchange assemblies, and a basketball game. One of the biggest drives of the year was the Boys' League Toy Drive. Mimeographed brochures were sent to all parents, and the toys were collected and sent to the Albion Street School.

The second semester activities, under Paul Rudnick, included the important project of enlarging the All-Nations Foundation program. More boys than ever before took an interest in this philanthropic project, and each week six boys visited the youth center and taught the children to play basketball, interested them in photography, and provided them with companionship. Paul Selwyn was the chairman of this committee.

Three assemblies were presented the second semester. All the intramural sports activities were under the sponsorship of the Boys' League, and Cotton and Hello Day was presented in coordination with the Girls' League.

Committees were open to any boy in school who was serious in his intentions to work.

ABSENT JUSTICES: D. Reznick, A. Stauffer, J. Murray.

Justice still reigns supreme at Beverly, and every Norman is innocent until he is proved guilty. Student court proceedings take place in Room 301, whenever a session is necessary. Chief Justice Daryl Snyder, along with his associates Audrey Bach, Dick Chamberlain, Phil Gay, Donna Gillman, Dick Langendorf, Theresia Long, Alan Mendel, Jack Murray, Don Reznick, Art Stauffer, and Mary Tobin, administered punishment to all offenders.

Infliction of punishment by fellow students is often more forceful to the miscreant than sentence by a teacher. Most common of the misdemeanors committed are off bounds, truancy, smoking, and habitual minor offenses. The number of Norman points lost and the degree of the penalty is administered according to the misdemeanor.

Each student is issued forty points at the beginning of the new semester. When twenty points are left, the offender is placed on the lost privilege list, a penalty which bars him from attending any assemblies or special activities. The lawbreaker whose name is on the restriction list for having lost thirty points is unable to participate in any school activity, appear in any production, and run for a class or student body office. Penalty for the loss of all forty Norman points, which often results in suspension from school, is usually decided by the faculty.

Go, go Normans, go! And that is exactly what the Normans did as they cheered their teams on to countless victories at the games held throughout the year.

The Spirit Committee, led by Ruth Bressi and Marcia Sebel, was composed of the head yell leader, majorette, and pom-pon girl; art chairmen, Amy Backstrom and Tony Nast; head of the Drill Team, Sue Rosenfelder; chairman of the stunt committee, Judy Rudé; manager of the band, Howie Rubin; commissioners of athletics, Buzz Jewett and Eric Wittenberg; commissioners of publicity, Paul Rudnick and Don Reznick; fall and spring presidents of the student body, Jim Morrow and Art Stauffer.

Laurie Sturges, head pom-pon girl, was assisted by Amy Backstrom, Joan Rubin, and Jackie Spector. Drum majorettes Audrey Ganulin and Marcia Sebel were headed by Shirley Shakley. Head yell leader Howie Rubin, aided by Rod Friedman and Sally King, took time from leading the band to leading cheers.

SENIOR HYMN

("May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You")

Leaving Beverly behind us, she'll be in our hearts always.
There'll be so much to remind us of our happy high school days.
For short years so filled with pleasure, pass in memory's parade,
Games and dances that we treasure, and the friends we've made.
We'll remember all our teachers, how they helped us understand,
All our hopes and dreams and wishes, and then lent a helping hand.
Bright tomorrows we'll be greeting, thinking of the used-to-be.
In our hearts we'll keep repeating that we love you, Beverly.

SENIOR PEP SONG

(Washington and Lee)

We are the Senior Class of '51,
We'll have the Juniors always on the run;
Our fighting teams will make you understand
That as for Seniors we're the bestest in the land—

Maroon and Gray will triumph evermore,
Let's hear you Seniors give a mighty roar;
Our spirit's high and you are sure to see
A Senior Victory!

Annual compiles

Looking over the yearbook dummy to see whose picture they left out are Assistant Editors Claire Segal and Marilyn Jacobson, standing, and Advisor Miss Wheeler and Editor-in-Chief Janet Berger, seated.

Shaping their far-reaching ideas into a tangible reality, members of the WATCHTOWER literary staff, under the patient guidance of Miss Ruth Wheeler, labored long hours in the secretive atmosphere of Room 133. With their eyes on the future the journalists successfully completed the blueprint for a prize-winning yearbook.

Chief of the master architects was Janet Berger, who combined ability and enthusiasm to develop the plan of the outstanding annual and to coordinate the work of those on her staff.

Under apprenticeship to Janet were Marilyn Jacobson, assistant-editor in charge of pictures, and Claire Segal, assistant-editor in charge of proof. Fred Stern shouldered the financial responsibilities as business manager.

Effectively handling the class section, Diane Boyce and Theresia Long poured over the Rogues Gallery and senior pictures, alphabetizing, pasting, checking, and re-checking names.

Don Rowson occupied the boys' sports corner, while Carole Wayne reported the administration news in a near-professional style and shared girls' sports with Marilyn Jacobson.

Coverage of the accomplishments of future famous Normans was the job of Florence Newmark and Paul Turner, club editors. Marilyn Willey penned the activities division, and Ruth Bressi focused her unique ideas on the features section.

completed floorplan

Supplying the more minute details for the blueprint of yearbook perfection, the WATCHTOWER art staff worked unbelievable miracles with photographs, cartoons, and fabulous layout ideas.

Pat Grace and Joan Rubin, under the faculty supervision of Mr. Bryant M. Hale, directed the artists' activities at the north end of the campus.

Developing appropriate layouts were Bob Bassler, Chuck Belden, Ruth Bressi, and Phil Jaffe. Cutting was ably handled by Luann Cosgrave and Gloria Greene, while Jack Murray and Don Reznick successfully completed the mounting process. Dona Wessels concentrated her artistic ability on the job of lettering.

Responsible for the inside cover illustrations, Draftsman Chuck Coleman expertly mapped out the blueprint of the high school. Melvin Lebe, Alan Ludwig, and Howard Moglin, staff cartoonists, supplied the clever drawings depicting campus life.

Much of the success of the annual is attributed to Alan Reed, student photographer, who donated his talents to make possible a record number of pictures in this year's WATCHTOWER.

TOP ROW: H. Moglin, P. Jaffe, G. Greene, L. Cosgrave, R. Bressi, Mr. Hale. BOTTOM ROW: A. Ludwig, C. Belden, J. Murray, D. Wessels, D. Reznick, B. Bassler, M. Lebe.

Caught off guard for a moment is Watchtower's snap-happy photographer, Alan Reed.

Print-happy editors Carol French and Jim Morrow check the schedule of Highlights publications.

Weekly covers

Efficiency and fun were the watchwords of that group of enterprising journalists who inhabited that room of chaos known as the HIGHLIGHTS Office.

Under the able leadership of Editor Carol French, the first semester's staff consistently produced a superior quality of work. Novel first page make-ups were due to the efforts of Janet Berger and Dick Romonek. Marilyn Willey handled second page, while Ann Martin and Carole Wayne planned page three, along with Norman Nomad and Club News. Bringing unusual life to the staff and accurate coverage to sports were Al Call and Don Rowson.

Jim Morrow took over the editor's reins the spring semester in time to supervise the change of office headquarters. The new staff, which had no trouble maintaining the high standards set by the retiring newspapermen, included Marilyn Willey, city editor; Flo Newmark and Shane Wilson, features editors; Pat Huber, news editor; John Northcutt, sports editor; Janet Berger, Nomad; Lorrie Harris, clubs.

Almni news was efficiently reported by Betsey Warwick, who also wrote church news, and Carole Wayne. Flo Newmark penned the fall entertainment column, and the G.A.A. was covered by Shane Wilson and Marilyn Jacobson.

Emerging every Friday from the noisy confusion of the printshop and the dusty corner of a desk, a small band of persons nodded approval at the four-page paper that was the result of their unheralded industry. Without the wonderful efforts of the technical and business staffs, however, the HIGHLIGHTS' blueprint for success would have failed.

On the job both terms were Marilyn Jacobson, managing editor, and Howard Rubin, business manager. Carol French and Pat Huber effectively directed the public relations department, while Loretta Isaacs and Fern Victor relieved Jim Morrow of the tedious duties of circulation manager in February. Fred Brown joined the staff as advertising manager for the last semester.

Dave Henley and Tony Nesburn, staff photographers, expertly caught the vividness of Norman life in their consistently high quality pictures. Illustrating campus problems by clever, timely cartoons was the task which Beverly Wentworth competently handled, while Sigmund Porter, student pressman, aptly turned out the weekly production.

Mr. Don Davies advised the literary staff, and Mr. Richard Jackson, compositor, reigned in the printshop.

A Cappella Choir trains...

Harmonizing their way through two melody-filled semesters, the 78 members of the A Cappella Choir successfully completed a busy and varied schedule of performances.

The student body enjoyed the musical talents of the chorus at the Armistice Day assembly. A concert of Christmas songs at Horace Mann and the inspiring execution of the background music in the Christmas Pageant brought well-earned praise for the group.

During the spring semester the vocal company performed before delighted audiences at Beverly Vista and El Rodeo. Appearing in conjunction with the entire high school music department, the choir participated in the Spring Concert on March 30.

Beverly Hills hosted Southern California's outstanding high school choral groups at its Eighth Annual Festival on May 4. Later in the same month the chorus traveled to the Redlands Choral Festival, where it was enthusiastically received and was rated high in musical ability. At the Baccalaureate service the effective musical arrangements blended with the solemn atmosphere.

Mr. Glen M. Case expertly directed the choir, while Miss Margaret Campbell acted as rehearsal accompanist.

with Boys' and Girls' Glee...

In preparation for the more difficult song arrangements of the A Cappella Choir, the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, directed by Mr. Glen M. Case, gained valuable experience in three part harmony through active participation in the Christmas Pageant and the music department's Spring Concert. The members also acted as ushers and guides at the Choral Festival in May.

The group of aspiring Helen Traubels and Doris Days chose Linda Ross head vocalist in the fall. Mounting the podium for the second semester was Diane Roth. Other officers were Adrienne Bach, Vera Bowman, Barbara Gershon, Lynne Goldman, Lorraine Gottfried, Margie Greenberg, Alice Huberty, Elsa Inselbuch, Gail Karp, Barbara Klein, Mary Ellen Mermelstein, Sue Olson, Gunda Palm, and Nancy Rosenberg.

Peter Menjou led the male ensemble until February, at which time David Miller accepted the governing baton. Lynn Bailey, Charles Belden, David Berk. Ken Cutler, Dick Eiler, Mike Franks, Tony Joseph, Eddie Lazarus, Gerald Mitchell, Ronnie Robbins, Robert Traub, Dan Weiler, and Paul Zimmerman aided in the management of the group.

Miss Margaret Campbell competently accompanied both glee clubs.

Looking over musical arrangements before a public performance are Howie Rubin, Mr. George Wright, and Don Vallance.

Normandy Symphony

No blueprint—whether it be one for an ideal home or an ideal lifetime—is ever complete without some classic lines, and the WATCHTOWER'S blueprint of perfectly portrayed high school life is no exception. Adding that needed touch of culture is the fine record of the orchestra, conducted by Mr. George Wright.

Furnishing the musical interludes at the Christmas Pageant and the Senior Play, the talented ensemble later traveled to the Fullerton Festival to compete with other outstanding high school orchestras for coveted high ratings. The four elementary schools applauded the melodious arrangements, and the adult public enjoyed the performances given at the music department's Spring Concert and "I Remember Mama."

Participating in the Santa Barbara orchestra, composed of talented high school musicians from Southern California, were a record number of Beverly High students. Those attaining this honor were Barbara Blatt, cello; Julius Grollman, bassoon; Sunny Hilger, oboe; John Hyde, clarinet; Shirley Koehler, viola; Marjorie Liff, viola; Bill Love, oboe; Selma Margaretten, viola; Jimmy Robbins, bassoon; Ronald Rose, violin; and Anne Taggart, violin.

"To the victor belong the spoils," and more than once the forensic squad has emerged from tournaments laden with the winning cups and medals.

A main factor in Beverly's growing trophy collection, the speakers hosted the Spring Individual Events Tournament in March and walked away with fourth place honors, along with several individual awards. Julie Hall, tourney director, co-ordinated the day's activities.

Newcomers to the active team proved their worth by copping the sweepstakes prizes at both the Novice Debate Tournament and the Novice Individual Events Tournament.

Assisted by student leader Dick Romonek, Mr. Ralph Arnold coached the squad members.

Vocational Conference

Concerned with future vocations, Mr. Dennie Peterson, Sandy Spielman, and Mr. Harry Alter plan our yearly conferences.

Beverly's businessmen and specialists of tomorrow received first-hand advice from vocational experts of today at the Commercial Club's Thirteenth Annual Vocational Conference in April.

Under the student supervision of Sanford Spielman, Commercial Club president; Stuart Newmark, chairman; Miyeko Hashima and Teddy Morris, assistant co-chairmen; the day's events were sponsored by the Beverly Hills Kiwanis Club in co-operation with the high school.

Featured in the journalism sections were Miss Ann Stern of the Mirror and Mr. Kimmis Hendricks of the Christian Science Monitor. Dr. Lowell C. Frost, former Beverly instructor, spoke in the medicine division.

OFFICERS: Marty Clark, stage manager; Tony Nesburn, head electrician.

Challenging the prestige of Broadway stage hands was Beverly's own stage crew of 35 promising individualists.

Led both semesters by Marty Clark, stage manager; Ed Strauss, head "yes man"; and Tony Nesburn, head electrician; the crew not only handled the scenery and props for theatrical productions, but also designed and constructed sets with professional skill.

The effective staging of such presentations as "The Divine Flora," the Christmas pageant, and the spring show was due to the tireless efforts of these boys, who were on the job at endless rehearsals as well as during the performances.

Mr. Bryant M. Hale directed the active, unpredictable group.

To attain complete knowledge and practical experience in all phases of broadcasting work was the aim of Mr. Ward H. Lester's radio speech class.

The first semester's work was confined to monologues and the study of plays, while the second term was in the form of a radio workshop, which included script writing, sound effects, acting, and directing. Every student received instruction by active participation in these various stages of radio broadcasting.

Aspiring Winchells and Pearsons learned microphone techniques by presenting daily five minute newscasts. At the radio speech assembly in March the students applauded the excellent results of the course.

"Divine Flora"

Deep in plans for their hilarious adventures are star performers D. Romonek, L. Sturges, H. Knoller, L. Awan, S. Goldberg.

November was a month of miraculous transformations, screaming bobby-soxers, and an idolized Tex, as the Senior Class of S'51 presented Florence Ryerson and Colin Clement's "The Divine Flora," directed by Mrs. Florence Quertermous, assisted by Julie Hall.

Lynn Awan and Laurie Sturges, in the title role, headed the double cast of female performers. Sandy Goldberg and Dick Romonek shared male honors by characterizing Randy Pryor and Buzz Rafferty, respectively.

Advertising tycoons Mr. Dean and Mr. Dugan, as played by Henry Knoller and Mark Goldberg, complicated the romance of Halo Neblett and Don Reznick. Lending humor to the plot was the Pryor family, composed of Florence Barnett and Maxine Newman, Fred Milstein, and Margie Nast and Naomi Zimmer. More supporting players confusing each other were Bill Buffinger, Steve Horrell, Phil Leland, Frances Lichter, Dwight Peterson, Pam Powell, and Carole Wayne.

Taking it easy in the Pryors' summer cottage after their riotous experiences are members of the entire cast.

Portraying the songs of the A Capella Choir, the closing Nativity scene won the unprecedented acclaim of audiences.

Christmas Pageant

"O holy night, the stars are brightly shining; it is the night of our dear Saviour's birth." In an inspired program of Christmas Vespers, the combined music and art departments honored the advent of nativity in their annual holiday pageant, December 13. Narrating the story of Jesus' birth, Billy Compter read Bible verse selections relating events from the prophecy of Isaiah to the holy night in Bethlehem

Visualization scenes were under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Viau, art instructor. Rosalind Prager portrayed Mary, and Max Hara was seen in the spectacular tabloids as Joseph. Angels were represented by Catherine Durst, Marilyn Lauts, Ellen Morris, Nancy Wolvin, and Shirley Wood. Peter Arnold, Ann Hecht, and Bill White impersonated the watchful shepherds, while Dick Chamberlain, Alan Ludwig, and Norman Ross acted in the roles of the wise men. Costumes for the living pictures were designed and executed by the costume classes, and Joan Goodrich and Rosalind Prager planned the stage sets.

Complementing the solemn atmosphere was the music of the orchestra, A Cappella Choir, and Glee Clubs. Anne Mason and Donafred Woehner opened the program with a Chimes Prelude. Tyler Gilman was heard as soloist in Christiansen's "Beautiful Saviour," while the echo quartets were composed of Nancy Beswick, Diane Boyce, Arden Brame, Dick French, Tyler Gilman, Mike Parsont, Jane Rogers, and Arline Verity. Mr. George W. Wright and Mr. Glen M. Case directed the musical ensembles. Miss Mary Campbell, organist, accompanied the groups.

Staging was under the supervision of Mr. Bryant Hale, assisted by the stage crew. Tony Nesburn, head electrician, handled the lighting effects. Lynn Awan, John Erman, Julie Hall, Margie Nast, Maxine Newman, Pam Powell, and Lola Sherman performed the make-up chores, while the Music Makers, led by President Howard Rubin, served as ushers at the evening performance. Publicity arrangements were made by Mike Franks, Gail Karp, and Margie Nast.

Getting last minute instructions from Student Producer Pam Powell, members of the entire cast relax before a performance.

"I Remember Mama"

Bringing Mama's family album and memories of Uncle Elizabeth, the bank account, and Katrin's novels to the Beverly stage May 11 and 12 were members of the cast of John Vandruten's production "I Remember Mama."

Giving an inspired performance in the coveted role of self-sacrificing Mama, Maxine Newman sympathetically took care of the problems of daughters Katrin, Gloria Blitsten; Christine, Barbara Alan; and Dagmar, Lynn Terman and Margy Williams. Dick Chamberlain headed the male performers as Papa, and Dick Levitt was seen in the role of Nels, his son.

Relatives of the Norwegian family we humorously portrayed by Lenore Bernstei Aunt Jenny; Lynda Mitchell, Aunt Trina; E Kay and Jeri Coates, Aunt Sigried; and Tyl Gilman and Fred Milstein, Uncle Chris.

Supporting roles were capably handled Rusty Allen, Florence Barnett, Eddie Bede man, Judy Chase, Verna Douglas, John Erma Jeff Frey, Sue Hall, Norman Holden, Bar Kirsh, Dick Morrill, Jane Rogers, Paul Turne and Fern Victor.

Student Producer Pam Powell, assisted Arlene Cooper, supervised the endless r hearsals and smoothed out production snag while Mrs. Florence Quertermous rated hig praise for her work as director.

Grouped around the kitchen table for an evening chat are M. Newman, Mama; D. Levitt, Nels; B. Alan, Christine; L. Mitchell, Aunt Trina; M. Williams, Dagmar; J. Erman, Mr. Hyde; G. Blitsten, Katrin.

Broadway

"Now we take you to the island of Del Nostro." Leaving Beverly to the strains of the junior band, the student body was welcomed to the tropic isle by hula dancer Mike Glick and Pierre Mornell's "Hawaiians."

Busy building the Norman barbecue on the senior-willed island, juniors found time to offer some musical interludes. Tyler Gilman stepped off the boat and gave forth with "One of the Rovin' Kind," while Cynthia Mauzey, with the assistance of "apelets," later rollicked through "Aba Daba Daba." "Siggie-Poo" Porter led the show to its explosive finish by disclosing that the barbecue had been built on top of a volcano. Lorrie Harris and Laurie Glass handled the directors' duties.

Still waiting for the phone, Art Barr transported the student body back to a memorable incident from last year's senior show. Among other honored "Beverly Bests" was the senior song of 1948, which was featured in the finale. Answering the demands of their public, the "Prisoners of Love" recaptured one of the highlights of their junior assembly. Laurie Sturges and Margie Feinberg, grammar school wheels, and Rod Friedman, sophisticated chauffeur, conducted the tour through the past.

Those good old days met the modern times in the annual senior assembly. Digging back into the not-too-distant past, the mighty class of '51 came up with memories of unforgettable scenes from outstanding Beverly productions. Songs and settings from Mr. Bryant M. Hale's "Hollywood Legend" sparked the show's successful presentation. Hidden talents were revealed in Don Reznick's dancing ability and Howie Rubin's vocal efforts, while the Senior Saints showed themselves as a promising musical aggregation.

Hits...

Ladies of the chorus wowed the student body during the freshman talent show performance in November. Lower class boys donned the frilly female attire to sing and dance their way to a rip-roaring finale.

Green years were related by high school infants Nancy Rosenberg, Gail Karp, Norman Garey, and Norman Ross, still bewildered by the big, wide world. While searching for a theme, the frosh revealed some unusual talents in their fellow classmates. A classical touch, advocated by Tony Joseph, was added in an inspiring interpretation of a scene from Romeo and Juliet, and senior stage crew members provided hilarious episodes. President Mike Franks kept the show moving without a hitch.

With the help of a life-size camera the sophomore class "exposed" the rest of the students to their unique talent assembly. Viewing negatives in the darkroom were Dick Goldsmith and Judy Nelson, who discovered a lively print of Pat Patterson, Liz Elston, and Diane Barton in a candy store. Irish melodies were favored by vocalist Dick Levitt and tap dancers Linda and Vicki Behrstock, who stepped through the giant lens to entertain the highly appreciative audience.

Flashing back to snapshots of days of yore, jazzy flappers did a jumpy version of the Charleston. A modern picture showed Gloria Blitsten leading a group of sailor girls in a snappy dance routine, which brought down the house. Featured at the organ, Susan Talley might have suggested the portrait of a famous Carnegie Hall artist, while Roberta Hill was caught by the magic camera in a familiar pose as she sang a current hit.

". . . and to be of more service to my school and country" is only one phrase of the Alpha pledge. Proving that they do live up to their pledge, the upper grade girls' honor organization again this year revealed themselves as one of the most active clubs in the school.

Scissors snipped and needles flew as the "girls in blue" made and filled Christmas stockings for the All Nations party, under the able guidance of fall president, Carolyn Clark.

Snowflakes whirled and the student body twirled at the Snowflake Fantasy, the traditional Alpha formal dance, held as usual the Friday night before Christmas vacation. Dominating the decorations at the Riviera Country Club was a huge, slowly revolving reflector ball.

The presidential gavel was handed on to Lynn Awan at the beginning of the new semester. The first activitiy under the new president was the birthday party for the underprivileged children at All-Nations. Shortly afterward big bows marked with the Alpha "A" as well as blue sweaters, which designated the new members, could be seen at Normandy.

Initiating a new tradition, the club held its first informal "Alpha Day," which was shortly followed by the gala Mother-Daughter Tea. Not forgetting Pop, the girls gave their fathers a chance to become acquainted at the Alpha banquet.

Not to be forgotten was the "Panel of Americans," the Alpha assembly which featured the Religious Conference from U.C.L.A. "Any blueprint of the future will show these girls a success in any field they enter" is the opinion of not only Alpha sponsor, Miss Alida Parker, but of the student body as well.

The blueprint for the future of an enlightened, conscientious citizenry, drawn from a blueprint of the medieval past, shows us the Knights of Normandy continuing this year to add to their fine tradition of school service.

Under the able leadership of Art Stauffer, the boys' upper grade honor organization highlighted the first semester at Beverly High with its Third Annual Orchid Dance. This event, held at the Bel Air Country Club, was proclaimed throughout Normandy as a huge success.

Steve Horrell provided the leadership for the second semester, during which time the Knights presented their annual assembly, featuring the theme "Return of the Knights." It portrayed Normandy Knights, now ensconced in business, visiting the school to talk with the student body. The assembly proved entertaining, as well as enlightening, and was enthusiastically received by all.

This year, as every year, the Knights set a very worthy example in faithful adherence to the Norman code of honor. The men in black and white were active participants in all campus activities and were major contributors to the success of the school year. In addition to their regular campus activities the wearers of the Cross assisted their younger brethren by serving as referees for inter-playground baseball contests.

According to their sponsor, Mr. William Morrison, the occasion did not arise this year for any Knight to carry out duty number twelve—"to deflate the ego of any Knight who has an exaggerated idea of his importance." Plaudits are due "Doc" and his organization for an exceptionally active year.

future patterns as do Adelphians

"Want a job well done? Ask an Adelphian" is the attitude of the Beverly Hills Student Body towards the lower grade girls' honor organization. Beginning the fall semester with a bang, President Marilyn Marshek supervised the organization of a group of Adelphians to help out at the Red Cross Blood Bank.

Yarn was untangled and knitting needles flew as the girls worked on squares for an afghan for the Veterans Hospital. All work and no play, however, gets tiring, and to relax the "little girls in red" undertook the hardest job of all—planning the outstanding Heartbeats, their annual Valentine dance, held at the Rancho Club Golf Course in February.

The presidential gavel was handed from Marilyn Marshek to Spring Prexy Susan Long at the annual Adelphian banquet. Soon afterward, the Red Cross Assembly and Drive, the major spring activity, were launched with the aid of the sponsor, Mrs. Cora Stephenson.

and Squires...

The industrious activities of the Squires pervaded every phase of campus life. As led this year by Pierre Mornell and Walt Dougher, the boys' freshman and sophomore honor organization made many contributions to school life.

The traditional chores of the Squares were carried out as they have been in past years at Beverly High. The young men in blue and white faithfully lowered the flag after school every afternoon, patrolled all of the off-bound area during each noon period, collected tickets at all home football and basketball games, and sold programs at the Beverly Hills Invitational Basketball Tournament.

In March the Squires held their annual dance at the Rancho Golf CourseCountryClub. "Cotton Whirl" was the theme, and the music was provided by Doug Hansen and his band in good old fashioned wastern style. Attired in Cottons and Levis, both Squires and those squired were afforded a pleasant evening. The "Cotton Whirl" was a worthy successor to the list of annual Squire dances.

The organization was sponsored this year by Mr. John H. French, Dean of Boys.

Academic success, our blueprint shows us, will be the future keynote of today's Palladians. Miss Anne Beatty was sponsor of the organization, while Lola Sherman and Don Vallance served as presidents for each semester. An academic achievement of ten or more points, three points for an A and one for a B, is necessary to qualify for Palladian membership.

At the time of this writing the Palladians were planning a field trip of special interest, although the destination had not been finally decided. One of the many interesting Palladian meetings this year featured Beverly High Principal Kenneth L. Peters discussing other organizations similar to Normandy's Palladians and linked with the California Scholarship Federation. The Palladian organization serves Beverly not only by its acts of school service but by acting as an incentive to Norman students for greater academic efforts.

Sponsoring the activities of over eighty Lexians helped to make this year a busy one for the Biblions. Acting as hosts at the Biblion barbecue and other social activities were Presidents Don Reznick and Steve Platt and Sponsor Miss Hazel S. Vaughan.

Philanthropic as well as social activities occupied the minds of the honorary library group, as they arranged for CARE food and book packages to be sent abroad. Finances for the venture were raised through cake sales.

"No, we're not planning to be librarians," explain the Lexians; "we're more interested in what we've already received from the organization—a better understanding of the library and wonderful experience in club life.

"The activities, which included one noon period per week of service and various philanthropic and social activities, began in September with the awarding of pins to over forty club members," commented Lexian sponsor, Miss Hazel S. Vaughan.

"Prominent chemist makes a startling new discovery!" "Young writer's first book tops the Best Seller list!" Headlines like these are what the faculty and sponsor of the group, Miss Frances Hurd, have in mind when they choose the new Lektos.

One out of every two hundred students in each department is thought to be a future Einstein or Picasso, and these "chosen ones" are honored with membership in the select society, which this year numbers twenty-eight Lektos.

Alchemists

"Now let me see. Do I mix the acid into the water or the water into the acid? Oh, well, I'll soon find. . . ."

BOOM!

Barring such unforeseeable occurrences our blueprint shows us the "boy wonders" of the Alchemist Society happily at work in the laboratory.

Led by Ira Riskin and sponsored by Mr. Norman Fjelsted, the Alchemists presented their annual assembly, which featured a discussion of atomic power.

The future definitely holds the smell of printers' ink for the ambitious members of one of Beverly's most exclusive clubs, the Quill and Scroll. The nine members of the organization, which this year includes the editors of HIGHLIGHTS and WATCHTOWER, as well as staff members of both publications, fulfilled the high entrance requirements.

Presiding over the formal initiation and oath of the international honorary journalism society was Quill and Scroll sponsor, Mr. Don Davies, and club presidents, Jim Morrow and Sigmund Porter.

Managers

"The primary purpose of the Managers Club," reports Coach Charles Brown, sponsor of the organization, "is to foster and improve athletics at Beverly Hills High School." Membership in this active company is limited to those who have actually managed an athletic team at Normandy.

Under the leadership of Sylvin Perry this diminutive but dynamic group acted as right hand men to the coaches and raised funds for the purchase of athletic equipment. The fund-raising project this year was the concessions booth at the basketball tournament.

The A.U.A., which stands for art, understanding, and ability, is the honorary art organization at Normandy. Each year at Christmas time seals and tags, which are made by members of the A.U.A., are sold throughout the school.

The group sponsored a photography contest with the Quill and Scroll Club and thus succeeded in bringing before the public the terrific photographic ability of many Normans. One of the club's activities during the year was the Art Department Open House, at which the A.U.A. played host and took charge of all the functions.

Arrangements were made for a future showing of alumni art work, which would include gathering alumni material and presenting an exhibition. At the weekly meetings plans were also discussed concerning future work at the All-Nations Foundation.

This year members of the A.U.A. visited the Chabot and the Frank Perls art galleries. The trips enabled the students to appreciate and evaluate the work of famous artists.

The A.U.A., sponsored by Mrs. Lucille Robert and Mrs. Marjorie Viau, was one of the most active clubs on campus.

Curtain going up! Beginning Beverly's "theatrical season" was the Drama Workshop's elaborate production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Principals Verna Douglas, Henry Knoller, Flo Newmark, and Fern Victor played to an enraptured audience of youngsters from the Beverly Hills Brownie and Cub Scout troops. Technical effects were handled by Fred Milstein and Tony Nesburn, working under Producer-Director Maxine Karpman.

Psycho-analysis was the theme of "Suppressed Desires," produced by John Erman. In the cast were Barbara Allen, Richard Levitt, and Susan Long. To close the season the club presented "Hansel and Gretel" for the All-Nations Foundation.

During the year alumni returned to tell of their experiences in the great big "outside world." Agreeing that stage experience at Beverly and the help of Workshop-sponsor Mrs. Florence Quertermous had helped them greatly in the realization of their ""blueprint for the future" were Don Wolf and Bob Homel.

Making the various activities possible were President Maxine Newman and her cabinet.

At the formal initiation last spring new members took the solemn Thespian pledge. This year they learned that membership in the national honorary dramatic society is not only recognition for work well done, but added responsibility, which the students must accept.

Highlighting the year's activities was the presentation of Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey from Trenton to Camden" at the Pasadena Playhouse contest.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Corinne Pyle and Miss Jane McClure the Home Economics Club was very active this year.

Its largest individual project was the adoption of a French family, to whom the club sent monthly packages of food and clothing. This organization has also assisted in national projects.

Sponsoring occasional apple sales is the means of raising finances for such social affairs as club dinners and a progressvie dinner party.

Music Makers

As the name implies, the Music Makers' main purpose is to make music. Led by Presidents Howie Rubin and Bill Love, Beverly's top musicians got together twice a month during the past year and enjoyed musical programs put on by the members. Jordan Colburn, vice-president, arranged for vocal solos by Tyler Gilman, piano solos by Maxine Kessler, and music played by a woodwind ensemble, which later entered the Inglewood Music Festival and rated a First Division.

Besides furthering their own enjoyment of music, last semester the Music Makers, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Leah Moore, helped make noon periods more enjoyable for other students by arranging to have the chimes played during noon hour three times a week. The members not actively participating in the orchestra, choir, or glee clubs took part in the musical programs put on at Beverly by ushering at both the Christmas Pageant and the Spring Concert.

Two of the Music Makers' main projects were revising their constitution and planning a banquet for their last meeting.

Dedicated to a study of world affairs and how they may be improved, the International Statesmen, led by Sandy Goldberg and Lola Sherman, may boast of a large number of interesting activities this year.

An active program committee provided the Statesmen with a variety of noon and after-school meetings. Motion pictures, panel discussions, and debates were featured, so that the club members might improve their knowledge of world affairs. In the spring the organization held its annual banquet, which featured—besides good home cooking—games of historical charades. The second semester was highlighted by a detailed study, by the more enterprising of the Statesmen, of the United Nations and its activities. The study, which was supervised by faculty adviser William Quandt, enabled members to become eligible for participation in a nationwide scholarship contest.

This year the group continued sponsorship of the annual Americanism essay contest and assembly. Vicki Shuken, winner, read the prize essay, which presented dramatic proof of the greatness of America.

After typing their annual report this year, the members of the Commercial Club, led by Sandy Spielman through two active semesters, were able to file an excellent account of themselves.

Under the triple sponsorship of Mrs. Pauline Garnella, Mr. Dennie Peterson, and Mr. Max Glass, the club held a variety of entertaining and educational meetings.

The most important function of the club was its sponsorship of the Beverly Vocational Conference. Students received the opportunity to hear men and women already established in their preferred professions. Each year this conference plays an important part in helping Normans plan their own blueprint for the future.

This year saw the complete reorganization of the Norman Lettermen to include a larger number of members selected on a more democratic basis. Under the direction of Sponsors Hal Sieling and John Marrow the Lettermen club has been revised so that membership is now open to any Norman athlete attaining a total of twenty points under a point system which has been established on the basis of athletic honors won.

The purposes of the Norman Lettermen club are to promote better spirit and fellowship, to further interest in sports, to strive for clean play, and to perform acts of school services. Under the leadership of Presidents Marty Clark and Mark Goldberg the men of the Lettermen club have devoted a great deal of their celebrated brawn to the accomplishment of these objectives.

The Lettermen served as timekeepers, judges, scorekeepers, and guards at all Norman athletic events. It was due mainly to their efficient patrolling that order prevailed throughout the excitement of the basketball tournament. The Norman Lettermen are to be congratulated for their vigilance on this occasion.

Busily scribbling on their plans for the future are Beverly's journalists, the members of the Press Club. Not content merely to write the "specifications," all members of the club worked on the HIGHLIGHTS or WATCHTOWER.

Awards for outstanding work on the HIGHLIGHTS were handed out at the end-of-the-semester banquets presided over by President Janet Berger. Giving advice on the difficult job of deciding upon those who would receive the awards was the sponsor, Mr. Don Davies.

"Some day we want to be on the HIGHLIGHTS staff" is a sentence heard quite frequently at Thirty Club meetings. Proving that they really are anxious to learn, the ambitious freshmen and sophomores gathered once a week to learn about style and other necessary bits of information.

Mike Serlin, president, organized the members into an efficient force to sell programs at all football games. Guiding the activities was the sponsor, Mr. Don Davies.

"Ecoutez, mes eleves . . . and you shall hear the fabulous story of L'Esprit de France." This continental club began the year by electing Judy Rudé, la presidente, followed shortly by the first French club get-together.

French and English "turkeys" gathered for a "petite conversation" to celebrate a typical American holiday, Thanksgiving. Other club activities included the showing of French films.

Christmas was celebrated by a party in room 300; le gateau at les glaces (ice cream and cake to those who take Spanish) were served. Furnishing the entertainment was a group of dramatically inclined members who presented the hilarious tea-party scene from "The Madwoman of Chaillot."

Not forgetting that life has its more serious sides, the club members donated money for CARE packages, which were sent to a needy family in France. Supervising the year's activities was "L'Esprit" sponsor, Miss Lida Clementi.

"Tempus fugit; gaudeamus igitur," and with these time-tested words the Latin Club keynoted its activities for this year. Under the sponsorship of Miss Frances Griffin and led by Pontifex Maximus Louis Tapper, the Senatus Populusque Romanus enjoyed another year of Roman convivialities.

First semester activities, which included short playlets and a Christmas party, only served to whet the appetite of members for the big event of the annum, the gala Roman Banquet. On this festive occasion the noble Romans, clad appropriately in toga and Roman accoutrements, filled the hall with laughter over post-prandial activities such as the playlets depicting Pluto in the Underworld.

Latin American songfests, games, and movies highlighted the bi-monthly meetings this year of Beverly's upper grade Spanish Club, Los Quijotes. "Bueno!" exclaim the club members of this year's activities under the two-semester presidency of Bob Hoyt and the enthusiastic sponsorship of Senor Victor Seine.

Colorful decorations and a gay fiesta atmosphere sparked the Los Quijotes' annual Christmas party to brilliant success, as the Quijotes took turns swinging at the traditional Spanish pinata for the spoils of the party.

Inspired by a field trip to Claremont and the famous Padua Hills Theatre, where they saw a bright, colorful play of pueblo life in old California, a few members of the Los Quijotes in the spring semester produced and acted their own dramatic masterpiece for presentation to the Beverly High Spanish classes.

An exceptionally active year was climaxed by the annual Los Quijotes banquet at a nearby Spanish restaurant. After consuming their enchiladas and tamales the senores and senoritas repeated their opinion of the organization's activities—"Bueno!"

Social meetings at the home of German club members proved an outstanding method of combining business with pleasure. The gathering and sending of clothing and books to Germany — the latter for schools — kept the members quite busy at the noon meetings.

Presiding as hosts at the annual banquet and beach party were club President Ernest Dernburg and Sponsor Mr. Eric Knauer. Guest of honor was Mr. Jack Tate, U.C.L.A. student teacher.

Service is the motto of the Greek club, which began the year by making colorful tray favors for the Veterans Hospital at Sawtelle. Records that the veterans themselves asked for also helped to make the holidays a little cheerier.

Explaining that the club no longer had much connection with Greece, the sponsor, Mrs. Cora Stephenson, added, "We do, however, send out one huge bundle of clothes a year." Presidents Sally Beckwith and Sarah Buffinger directed the activities.

Varsity Grid Men offer

Bolstered by ten returning lettermen, the 1950 Pigskinners came into this year's football season with high hopes, only to be smashed by John Burroughs of Burbank, 25-0, in the practice opener. A week later the Normans lost a close battle to a visiting Hamilton squad, 7-0, to end the practice season.

Moving into Bay League play, Beverly received a 19-6 setback from Leuzinger's defending Bay League champs. End Mark Goldberg accounted for the only Norman score when he grabbed a 30-yard pass from QB Ron Knox.

Coming into the winning column for the first time in the season, the Marrowmen stunned a favored Torrance eleven, 12-7. Co-captain Dwight Peterson saved the day when he blocked a Tartar punt and fell on the skin in the endzone in the waning minutes of play. Ron Knox pushed over on a QB sneak for the additional Norman score.

With a record of 1 win and 1 loss Coach Marrow's boys played host to their traditional rival Samohi, and Normandy received one of her biggest setbacks in history when the 1950 Bay League champs rolled up 52 points to the Normans' 7. End Mike Sullivan provided for the only Beverly score, in the second half, when he snagged a pass from Knox in the endzone.

Traveling to Redondo, the Orange and White hoped to overcome its previous week's setback, but the Seahawks' running attack was too much for the home team to the tune of 21-6. The lone Norman score came on a combination 25-yard end run by Knox and then his pass to Tackle Dick Hall in the endzone on a tackle-eligible play.

Encountering the second team in Bay League the Normans wandered down Inglewood way. Stunned by the high score at the half, the locals were subdued by future all Bay League team members, Fullback Jim Carmicheal and Halfback Jim Stewart, as they riddled the Norman line. Halfback Locky Brown was responsible for the only Beverly tally in third quarter, when he went over into pay dirt on a hand-off. The Sentinels took over in the last period and ended in the lead, 45-6.

Staging their last game of the season, the Skin Crew drowned a weak El Segundo eleven, 35-14, under the opponents' arcs. In the early minutes of the game, Guard Ron Altarac picked up an Eagle fumble, and second team All Bay League Fullback Ken Campeau plunged over for the first TD. Then End Ken Irvin snagged a Knox pass to put the Normans ahead, 14-0. Campeau came back again and grabbed a 36-yard pass for the third Beverly TD. The Normans next staged a long drive and Beverly's outstanding halfback, Art Stauffer, hit the striped lines on an end-around to put the home team ahead, 28-0. The highlight of the game came when Altarac picked up a fumble and tossed it to half, Dick Mallek, who raced into the endzone for the final Norman score. Mark Goldberg kicked five out of five extra points to break unofficially the Beverly game record of conversions. This gave the Normans a seasonal record of 2 wins and 4 losses and a tie for fourth place with Leuzinger in Bay League.

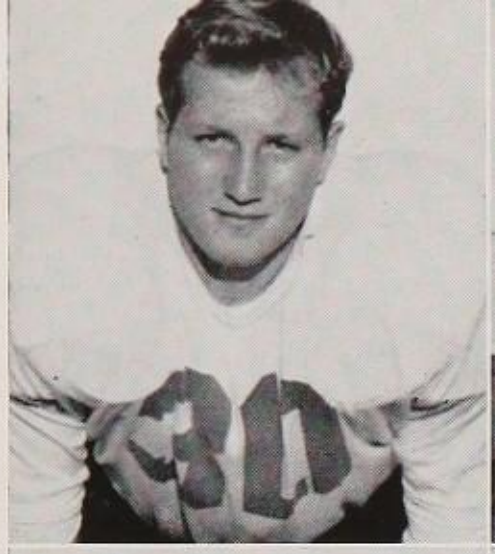
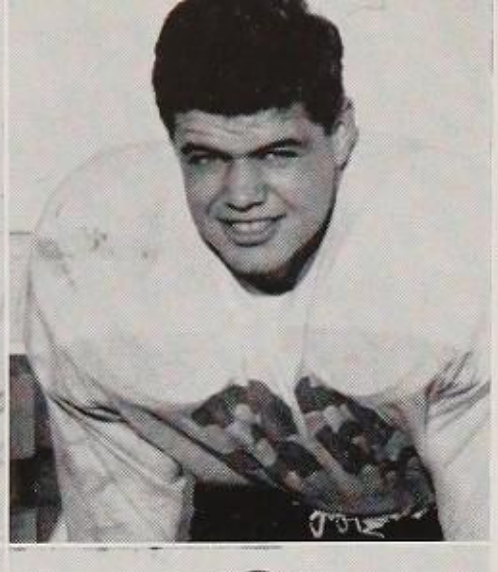
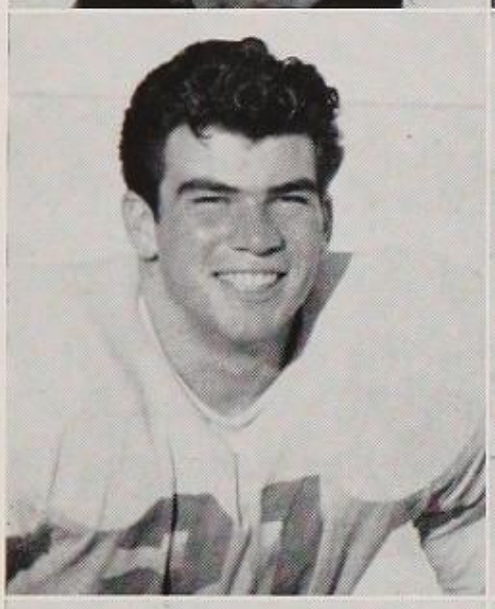
Taking a breather from practice are Coach Chris Flanagan, Co-captains Art Stauffer and Dwight Peterson, and Head Coach John Marrow.

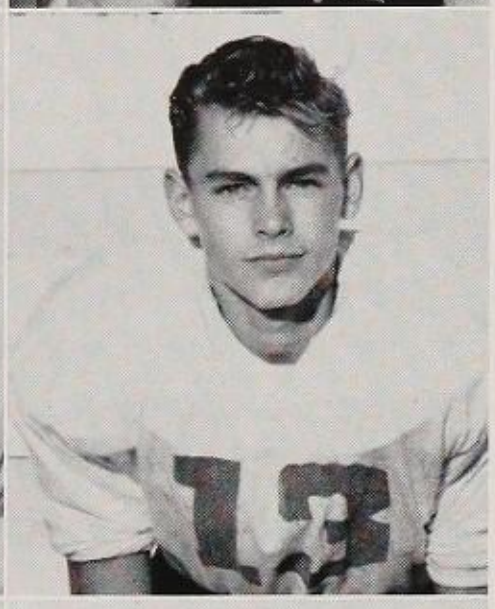
Art is one of the hardest fighting athletes ever to hit Beverly. Coming from last year's Bee Squad and playing outstanding ball at halfback, Art won the American Legion Award for his great spirit.

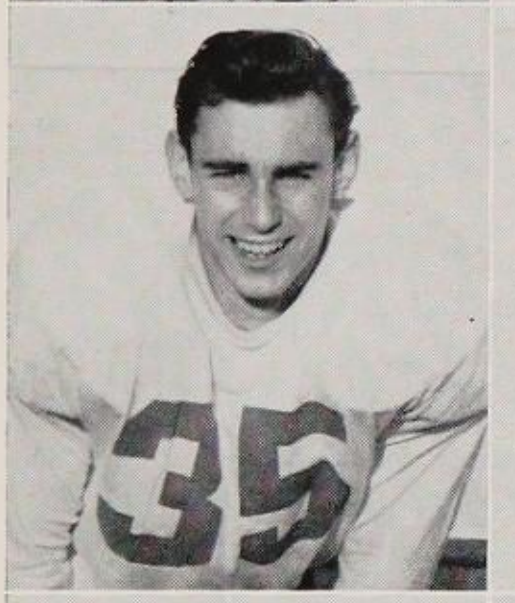
Dwight, a strong man at end, always came back fighting. His quick thinking paid off for the Normans when he scored a win in the Torrance game.

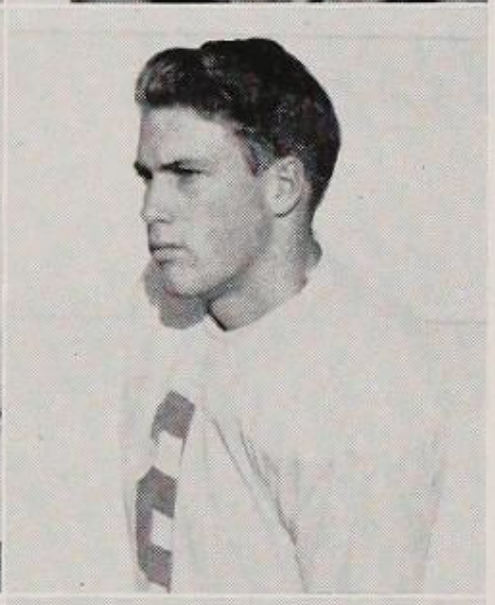


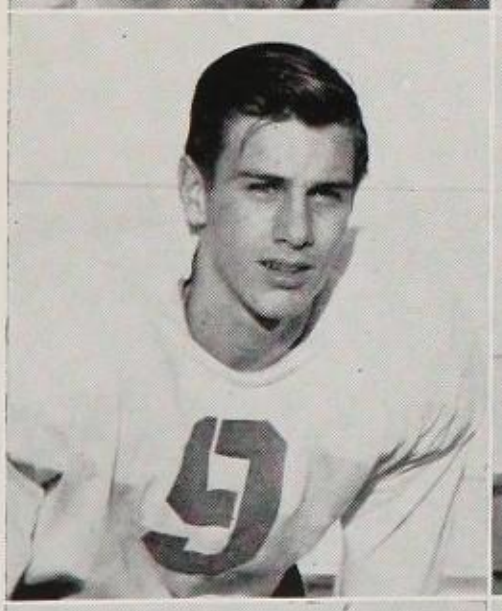


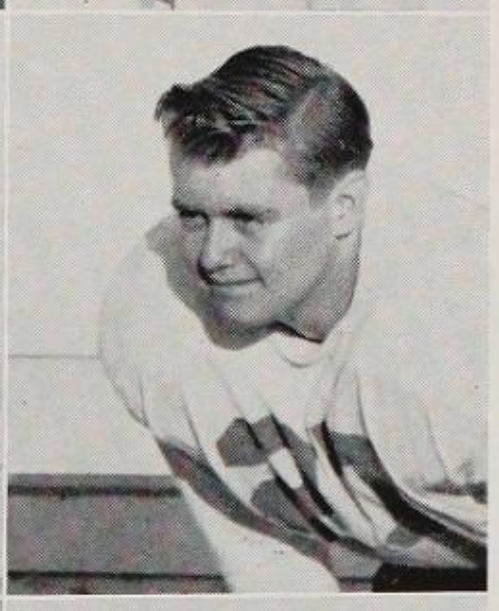


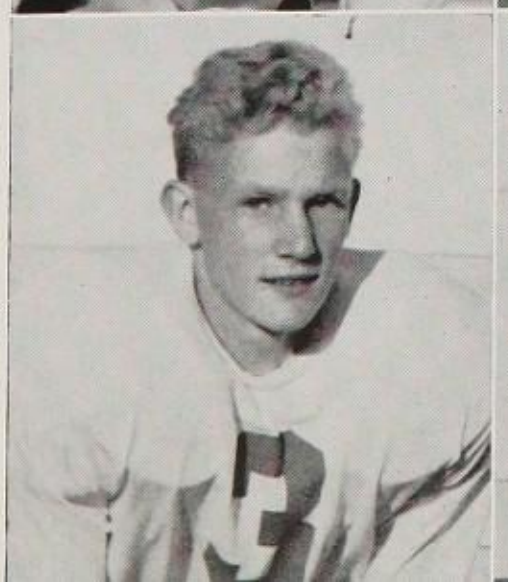


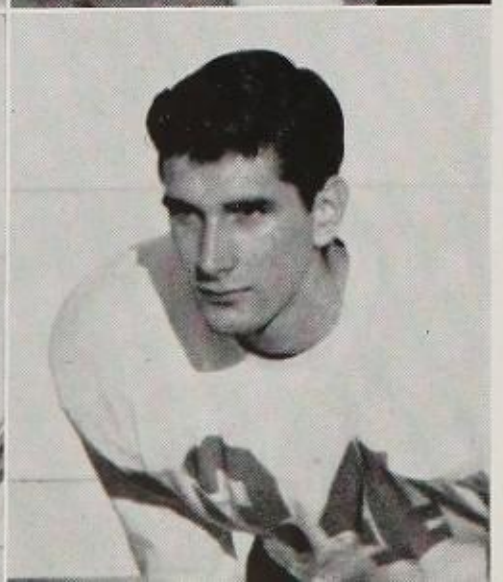












"All-Americans"...

Mike Glick—(junior) A powerhouse at guard, Mike was one of the most spirited men on the squad. Returning next year, he should be a strong contender for the All-Bay-League team.

Ron Altarac—(senior) Blanket Award winner and a 60-minute ball player in every game, Ron was chosen third string All-Bay-League guard. He was also top man on the Ace point list.

Jerry Rosenberg—(senior) In action at guard all the way around the clock in almost every encounter, Jerry had the endurance to fight to the final gun.

Ron Knox—(sophomore) Receiving All-Bay-League honorable mention, Ron held down the QB post. By the end of the season he had proved himself a very able ball handler.

Bob Hoyt—(senior) A tricky scatback, Bob was one of the finest backfield men for the Normans. Known for his great drive, he played mostly defensive ball for the locals.

Burr Narmore—(senior) Playing his first year at Beverly, Burr backed up the line on defense for Normandy. He was chosen the most outstanding man on defense on the 1950 squad.

Steve Horrell—(senior) Coming up from last year's Bee Squad, Steve, without a doubt, lived up to his position of pivot man. Never letting the squad down, he was always out there with the fighting spirit.

Dick Hall—(junior) Specialty man on the tackle eligible play, Dick played inspiring ball throughout the season. Striving to be better, he proved to be the most improved man on the squad.

Ken Irvin—(senior) An outstanding man at end, Ken showed his ability by being chosen third string All-Bay-League. Snagging everything when it came to passes, he did quite a bit of punting for the Normans.

Ken Campeau—(senior) Chosen on the second string All-Bay-League team at fullback, Ken picked up huge chunks of ground for Beverly throughout the season. His specialty was the end sweep.

Bee Footballers

Coach Hal Sieling's 1950 Norbabes ended their season with a better than average record of five wins and three losses, including the two practice encounters at the beginning of the year. Going undefeated for their first four frays, the Babes really had the championship spirit, but this was followed by a string of three defeats and one win and a final fourth place berth in Bay League.

In the season's opener the Babes nipped a visiting John Burroughs Bee squad 19-18 on the local turf. Ace Halfback Al Rabalais ripped 40 yards off right tackle for the first Norman score. "Red Dog" Leventhal smashed over from the one yard line after a series of plays, and Halfback Billy Epler accounted for the last Norbabe tally.

Beverly's Bees took their second win when they overwhelmed the Hamilton Midgets 14-0 in their last practice encounter. Highlights of the game were End Chuck Belden's 50-yard run to Yank pay dirt after he received a 20 yard pass from QB Bob Karp and Epler's run-over for the extra point in the third quarter.

In the League opener the Babes won a close match from the Leuzinger lightweights, 12-7, on the loser's turf. Norbabe center, Paul Olson, saved the day for the Normans with his combination of alert thinking and speed. In the last 40 seconds of play he picked up a loose ball and ripped 75 yards down the sideline stripes for the winning local score.

Traveling down to Torrance, the Orange and White completely outclassed the Tarbabes, 19-13. All-Bay-League Halfback Billy Epler, scoring all three of the Norman T.D.'s and completing a pass to Chuck Belden for the only extra point, played outstanding ball all afternoon.

With two victories under their belts the Babes dropped their first League game to an underrated Samohi Bee squad, 7-6. It was a see-saw battle all the way to the gun, and Don Zucker's pass to Billy Epler accounted for the only Norman score.

Fate played against the Babes again in the following week's game when they were downed 13-6 by Redondo, the future 1950 Bay League champs. After a long Norman drive in the third quarter through a series of plays by Belden, Bren, and Zucker, Bob Karp smashed over from the one on a QB sneak for the lone Beverly tally.

Scoring honors went to Edwards, Gruner, and Leventhal in a practice tilt with Mira Costa, and the Norbabe reserves walked all over the Beachboys to the tune of 20-0.

Facing a fast Inglewood aggregation, the Babes dropped their third straight defeat, 19-13. Epler again ran his opponent ragged by scoring on a 50 yard run, kicking all punts, tossing an extra point, and setting up the only other Norman score. Kajiwara, Olson, and Rabalais all played outstanding defensive ball for the hometeam.

Normandy smothered the cellar-dwelling El Segundo Eagles, 34-20, in the final Bay League encounter to cinch a fourth place in the final Bay League standings.

for "Little America"...

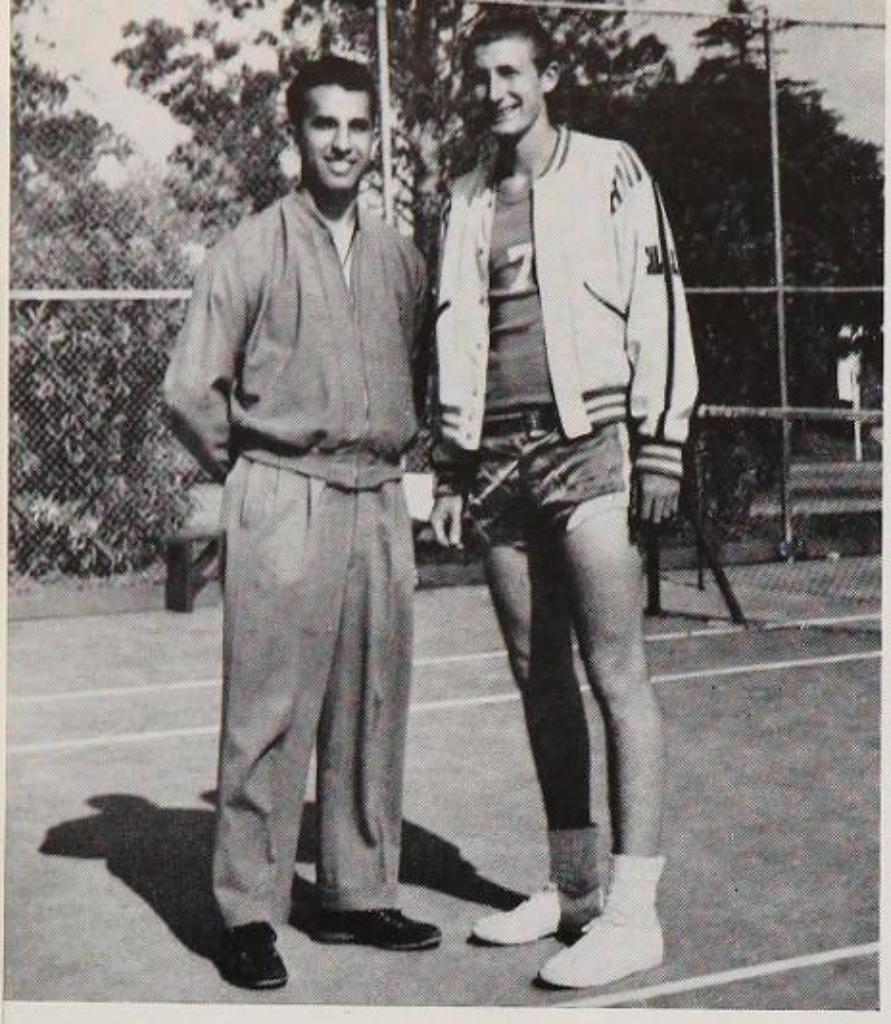
Billy Epler, junior, played halfback for the Normans and was co-captain of the team. He was one of the most outstanding ball players ever to compete on Beverly's Bee squads, and for his superior style of broken field running and punting he earned a first string berth on the All-Bay-League team.

Wes Kajiwara, junior, was co-captain of the Beverly midgets, and because of a knee injury Wes was unable to play early in the season. He came back towards the end of the season and showed his outstanding ability as a backfield man and a great halfback.

Dave Kelton, sophomore, played an excellent brand of ball at all times. Holding down the guard position, he was known for his hard hitting and as an all-around strong lineman. Walt Dougher, sophomore and a scrappy man at the tackle spot, was a definite asset to the team. Always in there fighting, he earned the respect of his teammates. Bob Karp, senior, was top signal caller for the Babes and a very able ball handler. He was an important man in the Norman line-up and was responsible for many sizable yard gains.

Chuck Belden, senior, was able to snag almost anything that came his way. A steady player always, Chuck was also strong on defense and an outstanding man at the end position. Al Rabalais, senior, was consistently strong on offense. Grabbing large amounts of yardage in all games, Al, who was by far one of the flashiest backfield men on the squad, was chosen second string All-Bay League. Jerry Williams, sophomore, played his share in the backfield at halfback. Jerry, a determined ball player at all times, turned in a good defensive game. Pete Bren, junior, picked large gains on his fullback plunges and line drives. Pete also handled most of the punting for the Babes and received All-Bay-League honorable mention.

Gene Abrams, senior, was a hard man to knock out at end position. He played inspiring ball and was always strong on defensive plays when deep in his own territory. Tony Landau, junior, was without a doubt one of the hardest hitting linemen, always rough and maintaining a fighting spirit. Tony will return next year to the varsity squad. Paul Olson, junior, one of the greatest players on the squad, held down the pivot spot and for his outstanding ability on both defense and offense, Paul was chosen All-Bay-League first string center.



Talking over future team prospects are Varsity Basketball Captain Eric Wittenberg and Coach Steve Miletich.

Varsity Hoopsters

Co-Bay-League Champs of the 1950-51 season, Coach Steve Miletich's casaba crew finished with one of the most successful basketball records in the history of Beverly High. Winning 21 out of 29 games played in the entire season, the Norman crew really had what it took for a solo spot in the Bay-League running, but the boys were edged out, 41-39, by their co-champs Inglewood in the deciding match of the season.

The Normans were edged out in their practice opener with L. A. Wilson 31-30. Smothering Burbank 49-32 in the second pre-season encounter, Normandy began to roll. Buzzy Jewett took the scoring honors with 13 markers. St. Monica was the next to fall by the wayside when it was trounced 33-19. Eric Wittenberg dropped in 15 to run away with the laurels. The locals suffered their second setback of the season, 48-24, when they met Compton, the future C.I.F. champs. Center Dick Ackerman was responsible for more than half of the Norman score when he bucketed 14 points. A weak and inexperienced Westchester crew fell prey to Beverly's subs, to the tune of 38-29, and Steve Horrell and Ackerman tied for scoring honors with eight apiece. St. Monica came back again in the home team's last practice encounter and got flattened again, 38-30. Ackerman again ran away with laurels, plunking 16, and Beverly finished the practice season with a 3-2 record.

Moving into the Bay League schedule, the Normans, led by Dick Ackerman's 18 markers, trounced a weak Leuzinger crew, 43-22. In the second game with the Olympians, ace Forward Eric Wittenberg officially broke the school scoring record with 39 digits and paced the Normans to a 66-31 victory over the opponents.

Mira Costa, a new school in the Bay League with only sophomore and frosh students, was drowned in both encounters, 61-22 and 51-28.

Inexperienced El Segundo was easy bait for the Norman sharpshooters in both rounds of play. With Wittenberg's 22 points in the first and 14 in the second, the Normans won 54-31 and 41-24, respectively.

Dick Ackerman, high scorer in both the Redondo clashes, led the hardwooders to a 52-24 victory in the opener and 42-38 in the final fray. Beverly went into its first overtime of the season in the second game with the Seahawks and was almost upset, but Jewett and Wittenberg saved the day with a field goal apiece in the overtime.

The Inglewood boys made it rough on Normandy when they gave the hoopsters their first defeat of the season, 48-32, and then came back in the second round and eked out a 41-39 victory over the locals in the last few seconds of play. These were the only two league defeats of the season for the Normans, and Inglewood was downed twice by Torrance to formulate the Bay-League tie for first place.

Coach Miletich and his boys really humiliated the beach boys from Samo when they woke up on the tail end of a 46-24 score in the initial fray and were dropped 47-42 in the second match. Jewett and Ackerman shared the scoring honors in the first battle with 14 each, and Wittenberg dropped 21 in the second tilt.

The Tartars of Torrance were overcome in both encounters with the home team, 50-45 in the first and 41-26 in the final stanza.

Moving into the C.I.F. play-offs the Normans lost a close fight, 38-34, to Compton, a great defensive ball club.

"In for two" says Forward Don Silverman as he makes a jump shot from the key in a Beverly Hills Invitational Tourney game with Garden Grove. Norman players, Steve Horrell, 31, and Dwight Peterson, 32, look on.

Eric Wittenberg, captain of the 1950-51 casaba crew, is without a doubt one of the most outstanding ball players ever to be on Beverly's basketball teams. For his tremendous ability and cool ball handling, he was the player of the year in Bay League, being the only unanimous choice on the first string All-Bay-League team. Eric also was second string forward on the All C.I.F. Team and first string All-Tourney in the Beverly Hills Invitational.

Art Levinson, one of the most consistent players on this year's squad, was chosen first string on the All-Bay-League team at the guard position for his tremendous defensive play. Art was specialty man on the back board.

Don Reznick, one of the most improved players on the squad, came up from last year's Bee squad and played a fine brand of ball for Beverly, for which he received Bay League Honorable Mention at guard.

Buzzy Jewett was a cool floor man and an outstanding ball handler at the forward position. Buzz received All-Bay-League Honorable Mention for his fine style and spirit throughout the season.

Ronnie Altarac, a tremendous defensive man on the squad, was ineligible in the middle of the season because of his completion of eight semesters. Ron was a cool ball handler and an outstanding dribbler.

Dick Ackerman was a stalwart at the center spot for the Normans and a consistent high scorer in almost every game. Dick was chosen third string center on the All-Bay-League team and the All Tourney team at the Beverly Invitational.

Bee Casabamen

Drawing out a new play for his two Bee Basketball Captains, Gene Abrams and Wes Kajiwara, is Coach Steve Miletich.

Coach Steve Miletich's Mighty Midgets finished a rather average season with a League record of six wins and eight losses and a fourth place in the final Bay League standings. Not a top team, the Bees nevertheless played a fine brand of basketball throughout the season.

Slow in starting, the Babes dropped their first two practice tilts to L. A. Wilson and Burbank, 31-36 and 33-40. A four game winning streak followed, however, as the Miletichmen disposed of St. Monica, 31-23; upset the Compton Tarbabes, 37-32; swept Westchester, 44-27; and wound up their last practice engagement with Santa Monica by winning 38-30.

Don Zucker, scoring 11 points in each game, was instrumental in the Norbabes' two victories over the weak Mira Costa five; the Norbabes took the first tilt 43-25 and the second by an equally convincing 41-21. The Vikebabes from Samohi turned the tables on the Babes, winning both contests 36-33 and 43-32, in spite of Dick Eiler's 13 markers in the first round. Splitting matches with the Torrance Tartars, the opponents took the first round, 37-32, and the Babes came back to smash the beach crew, 36-24.

Leuzinger, returning to the second round with a first round 36-29 victory under its belt, was defeated by an inspired Bee casaba team, 38-35. Inglewood twice conquered the Norbabes by scores of 38-27 and 47-30. After losing in the first round to El Segundo, 30-44, the Babes pulled a surprising upset in the second round and won, 38-26. Finishing the season, Beverly's Bee casabatiers lost twice to a superior Redondo five, 59-27 and 51-31. Dick Eiler took scoring honors for the team with 131 digits and was closely followed by Rowland Perkins with 127 markers.

Gene Abrams, co-captain of this year's crew, filled out the forward position. Gene was a consistent player during the whole season and a strong man on defense.

Wes Kajiwara, co-captain of the Babes, was a great asset to his team at the guard spot. The best floor man on the squad, Wes called the plays.

Ron Zumbrun, a sophomore, was a stalwart at forward for Beverly. Ron was noted for his great jump shot in and around the basket and his fighting spirit.

Pete Mornell, a consistent man on defense for the Normans, was a guard and a strong floor man. Since Pete is only a junior, he will help next year's varsity with his ability.

Rowland Perkins, key man at the pivot spot throughout the season, had a good set shot and was an outstanding rebounder. Roland was high on the scoring list.

Don Zucker, alternating between the guard and center spots on this year's Bee team, had tremendous drive and was a good backboard man. Don has two more years of basketball ahead of him.

Dick Eiler, an all-around ball player and a high scorer on the squad, had a good set shot and a lot of drive. With three years of casaba ahead of him, Dick's future looks bright.

Under the guidance of Coach Chris Flanagan this year's mighty Cee casaba crew finished the season with a mediocre record of 2 wins and 5 losses for a sixth place in the final Bay League standings.

Losing their first four games of the season to Leuzinger, Torrance, Redondo, and Santa Monica, the midgets came back in their fifth and downed Mira Costa, 28-14. In the remaining games they were dropped by Inglewood, and they trounced a weak El Segundo crew.

Stand-outs for the lightweights were Rose, the best shot on the team, at forward; Marx, high point man, at the center position; and Moline, the best ball handler, at guard. Rounding out the squad were Chudacoff, McDuffie, and Siegel as guards; Goldsmith, Thompson, and Yates as forwards; and Hoyt and Williams as centers.

Directed by Coach Chris Flanagan, the Dee squad ended the 1951 season in average form, winning only 2 out of their 7 encounters and ending up in sixth place in the final Bay League standings.

In the League opener the powerful midgets smothered Leuzinger, 22-16. Coming back in their second encounter the little men took their second win from a humiliated Torrance squad, 28-19. With a record of 2 wins and no defeats the Dees lost their winning streak and dropped their remaining five games to Redondo, Santa Monica, Mira Costa, Inglewood, and El Segundo.

Franks and Nast were consistently high scorers, while other outstanding players were Bailey, Kessler, King, Newman, Page, Rykoff, Schwartz, Wain, Weiser, and Wilk.

Beverly Invitational Basketball Tourney...

Living up to their high standards as Bay League Champs, Coach Steve Miletich's melonmen smothered Inglewood, their Co-Bay-League champs, 46-38, in the consolation round of the Beverly Hills Invitational Basketball Tournament for third place.

In the initial encounters of the tourney several top teams dropped by the wayside. Beverly dropped Garden Grove 45-30, Samo upset S. D. Hoover, Montebello edged Glendale Hoover, Loyola squeezed by Grossmont, Chaffey cleaned Redondo, South Pasadena eliminated Bell Gardens, and Compton ran all over Harvard. Moving into the quarter final round, the local Beverly team waxed a stunned Montebello squad 43-22, as Ackerman scored 28 points, Loyola beat Chaffey, Compton subdued Samo, and Inglewood outclassed South Pasadena.

Outdone by the Loyola Cubs in the semi-finals to the tune of 48-34, the Normans went into the consolation and completely smashed Inglewood for third place honors. Compton passed Inglewood in the semi-final round, 60-45, and moved on to whip soundly Loyola in the finals and win the ninth annual Beverly Hills Basketball Tourney.

The San Diego Invitational Basketball Tourney did not prove as successful for the Norman crew, as they were dropped in the consolation round by their arch rivals Samohi in a close match, 45-44. Drowning Sweetwater in the first game, the locals left the hardwood victors, 52-27, and St. Augustine fell to the Normans, 65-33, in the second stanza. S.D. Hoover overwhelmed the Normans in a third round 38-35 crucial battle.

Varsity Fleeters

Placing second in the Bay League finals, Coach Charlie Brown's 1951 Cindermen finished a very successful season, and at press time they were expected to make a showing in the C.I.F. meet.

In the initial meet of the season the Normandy squad saw defeat against Inglewood, the future Bay League Champs, in a 66-38 crucial battle. Mendel's two firsts in the sprints, Don Vallance's first in the pole vault at 11'6", and Irvin's 6-ft. jump were not enough to get by the UCLA Frosh, who won 63-40. Spilling Mira Costa in a landslide meet, 96-1, the local spikesters went on to a triangular meet with Santa Monica and Torrance, and Beverly took a second with 46 points. Going on in championship style, the Normans swamped both Leuzinger and El Segundo in a three-way meet, taking 78 points to Leuzinger's 33 and El Segundo's 13. The Redondo Seahawks were an easy victory for the home team in its last practice encounter before the Bay League finals, when they won all but four events and walked away with 64 points to the opponent's 40.

Advancing into the Bay League prelims, the Normandy aggregation took firsts in four events and qualified almost the whole team in the final Bay League meet. Bad luck came to the Normans when their ace pole vaulter, Don Vallance, got the measles and was held out of the Bay League meet. Vallance was a cinch for a first as he was undefeated in the season and had a chance in the C.I.F. meet. Inglewood took the Bay League finals by a landslide with 83 points, and Beverly beat Samohi 31-28 for the second place. Al Mendel took the only Norman first in the 100-yard dash.

"Every tenth of a second counts," says Coach Charles Brown, as he advises co-captains of the Varsity Track team, Art Stauffer and Al Mendel.

Mark Goldberg, senior, showed real improvement throughout the season as a shotputter. Beginning at 42 feet early in the season, Mark bettered his toss to over 47 feet through rea· strive and development of good form.

Chuck Belden, senior, was co-captain of the 1951 Bee squad and one of the best hurdlers on the squad. Sickness early in the season hampered Chuck's time, but he met defeat very few times in Bay League.

Don Nelson, senior, was a strong man in the broadjump during the season. He jumped 20 feet 5 inches for his best mark, and he qualified in the Bay League meet.

Don Vallance, senior, was one of the most important men on the team. Vaulting 11′9″, remaining undefeated in Bay League, running low hurdles, and placing fourth in the 880 relay team were Don's main accomplishments.

Mal Hughes, junior, carded a 10:2 in the 100 during the season, took a second in the 220 at 22.8, and placed third in the 100 in the Bay League meet.

Dick Chamberlain, junior, is the third best sprinter on the crew and a three year letterman with one year to go. He had good form and consistency in the 220 and 100 yard sprints.

Ken Campeau, senior, was one of the hardest working and most spirited men on the squad, running in the 440 yard event. Ken took a fourth in the 440 in the Bay League meet.

Ken Irvin, senior, high jumped 6′2″ throughout the season and was almost never threatened in Bay League until the final championships, when he had a little tough luck taking a second at 5′11″.

Gary Hoffman, junior, showed good form in the low and high hurdle events out on the oval, but he showed his greatest ability in the high hurdle race.

Ben Hexter, junior, was the flying man on the broadjump pit, turning in a jump of 20′9″ for his best mark. Running sprints and displaying good form, Ben is a natural in the sport.

Consistent winners for the Bees were Lucky Roberts, high jumping 5′7″; high and low hurdle men, Chuck Belden and Pete Bren; iron ball expert, Bob April, throwing for 46′6½″; and pole vault expert, Ted Landon, clearing 11 feet in Bay League. Hurdlers Pete Bren and Chuck Belden were co-captains of the mighty Babes.

Finishing a rather spotty season with a record of winning 2 out of their 7 meets, the mighty midgets came back to take a fourth in the Bay League Championships ahead of Inglewood, Leuzinger, Mira Costa, and El Segundo. Co-captains Jim Sharp and Mort Lattman, along with teammate Mel Chudacoff, were the high point gainers for the squad. Lattman was a consistent winner in the 180 low hurdles, as was Sharp in the 660 yard event and Chudacoff in the 100 yard dash.

Batsmen pave the way

Coach Hal Sieling's 1951 baseball team, in spite of some bad luck, had a pretty fair season, and at press time the boys had a 5 win 5 loss record.

In the practice opener the locals downed a visiting Mount Carmel squad, 5-0, and the following week the Normans had difficulty in overcoming the Hollywood team to the tune of 7-3. Pitcher Bob Hoyt pitched a no-hit ball game against St. Monica in the third practice encounter and paced the Normans to a 6-0 win. Rounding out the practice season, Los Angeles High saw defeat by a score of 3-1, Hollywood was trounced 6-0 in another no-hitter, and Hamilton edged the home team 2-0.

Bay League spelled trouble for Beverly in the first two games as they lost to Redondo in the first, 7-6, in an eight inning battle and were overrun by Leuzinger, 10-4, in the second. Mira Costa gave the Normans their first win of the season, 3-2, and then Torrance came around and edged the squad, 1-0. In the following day's fray the locals beat Inglewood, the top team in the league, 4-3.

The Redondo Seahawks had too much on the ball again, for the Normans left the field trailing 7-1. Then a hot El Segundo squad surprised the local horse-hiders by winning 3-1 on the home squad's diamond. Samo then visited the local campus and squeezed by in the seventh inning to edge the Sielingmen, 2-1. The Beverly squad won the two remaining games of its little more than half finished season with Leuzinger, 1-0, and with Mira Costa, 7-2.

Locky Brown held down the first base position for three years and was definitely a strong asset to his team. He was the only left handed batter on the squad, and he showed definite improvement at the plate.

Ken Irvin was potentially one of the best ball players on the squad. Ken never failed to do his best in center field; he always showed a tremendous amount of hustle and drive.

Bob Hoyt should have had a much better season, but because of an arm injury early in the season his pitching was rather spotty. He was a three year letterman and an oustanding ball player.

Mike Sullivan, co-captain of the batting crew, saw action behind the plate as catcher, pitcher, infielder, and outfielder. Mike was honored with the American Legion Award for his outstanding spirit and ability.

Billy Epler was one of the best base runners in the Bay League. Bill helped out in the outfield; his value to the club was getting on base and stealing a few more.

Bob Karp, co-captain of the Sieling crew, had a very good year. Strong man in the "Hot Corner," Bob was a good hitter, fielder, and an all-around strong captain and good teammate.

Pete Arnold, second base, was the youngster of the club, and because of very little previous experience he had an upgrade fight throughout the season.

Paul Zimmerman, the best all-around ball player on the squad, won the Blanket Award in his Frosh year. Holding down right field, he had a good arm, fielded well, and was the best hitter on the squad.

Bob Jones held down the shortstop spot, substituted at second base, and fielded some of his best games. Already a two year letterman, Bob has a great future.

Stu Hoyt was the most improved pitcher on the team, walking an average of one man per game. He filled in early in the season because of sickness in the pitching department.

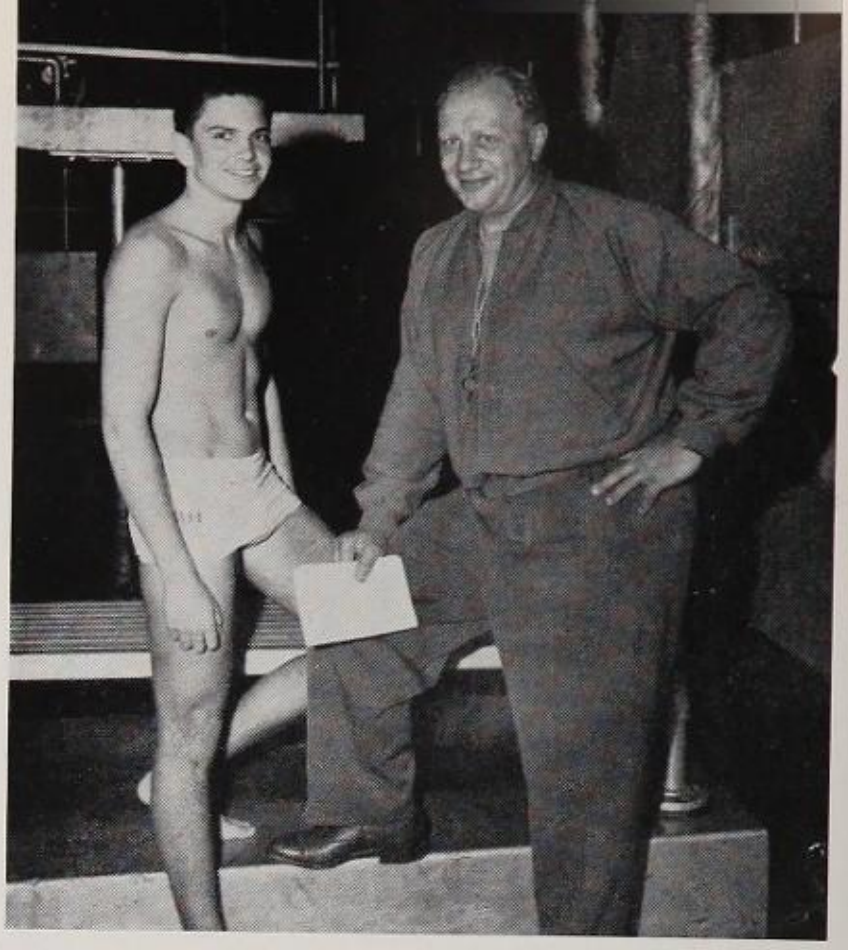
Varsity Swimmers

Taking over the responsibility of swimming coach, John Marrow guided the 1951 Mermen to a second place in the final Bay League standings, finishing behind El Segundo and ahead of Inglewood.

Traveling down Whittier way to enter in their relays, the Normans came home with a sixth place, competing against seventeen top ranking Southern California high schools. Paced by John Weiser's 1:2.6 time in the 100 yard backstroke, the Beverly Mermen downed a visiting Loyola squad 54-8. Hollywood's crew was too much for the locals, and the opponents won 40-36. The C.I.F. Invitational meet was the next on the Normans' list and Sprinster Phil Gay took a first in the Bee 50 yard freestyle in the record-breaking time of 24.8s. Others placing in the meet were John Weiser, who took a second in the 100 yard backstroke; Bart Glaser, who took a third in the diving event; and John Weiser, John Sill, and Dick Hall, who placed fifth in the Varsity medley relay team.

Los Angeles was the next school to fall prey to the locals by a score of 52-14. Inglewood dropped by the wayside in the opening Bay League meet, and the locals took firsts in all but two events and won 52-23. In a three way meet with Dorsey and Pasadena City College the Normans won with 58 points to Dorsey's 26 and Pasadena's 0. The Normandy mermen saw a real defeat at the hands of a powerful Whittier team when they were swamped 60-15, the worst defeat of the season.

Swimming ace John Weiser swam Beverly to a second place in the final Bay League meet along with his teammates, when he broke the League record in the 100 yard backstroke and beat his arch rival, Dornblazer of El Segundo. Bart Glaser took a first in the diving for the second straight year.



Talking over chances for the C.I.F. swimming meet are Coach John Marrow and Varsity Captain John Sill.

Ed Strauss, a fast man on the Bee sprints, swam the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. He also was a valuable man on the relay team and received his share of points during the year.

Phil Backer was a high point gainer for the squad, swimming the varsity back stroke. Contributing to the swimming squads for the last four years, Phil lettered varsity for his second year and was second man on this year's team.

Dick Hall was a consistent point winner in the Varsity freestyle 50 and the relay team. Dick has one more year on the squad ahead of him, and his future is promising.

Phil Gay set a new Bee C.I.F. invitational 50 yard freestyle record of 24.08s. and took a second in the 100. Phil also swam anchor man on a strong four-man team.

John Sill was captain of the 1951 Varsity Tank squad and an outstanding man as Varsity breast stroker. John also swam breast stroke on the medley relay team and took part in the individual medley event.

Doug Pruessing was strong man in the 200 and 100 yard freestyle events and a member of the four man relay team. A determined swimmer, Doug holds the school record in the Bee 200 yard freestyle.

Dick Langendorf, a spirited worker on this year's swimming team, swam Bee backstroke. Dick was excellent in the 100 yard backstroke and the medley relay.

Jim Ganulin swam the Cee backstroke and also showed well in the Bee backstroke event. Jim has good form and is expected to bolster the squad's chances in next year's season.

Bee and Cee tank fiends...

Placing second behind El Segundo in the final Bay League meet, the Beverly Merbabes had a very successful season.

Winning all of their meets except one which they lost to a powerful Whittier Bee squad, 40-14, the mighty midgets beat Hollywood, 46-25. Loyola fell to the home team, 45-12, and John Muir saw defeat to the tune of 50-15. Inglewood was also outdone by the little men, 46-19, and in a triangular meet with Pasadena City College, Beverly took a first with 54 points to 22 points for City College and 8 for Dorsey.

Finishing third in Bay League's standings, Marrow's midget mermen managed to compile an impressive record of four wins and one loss in practice meets this season. Herb Lapin, breaststroke artist, proved the outstanding man on Coach John Marrow's small but formidable squad. Others to make impressive showings were Jimmy Ganulin, who garnered valuable points in the back-stroke, John Barbe, freestyle expert, and Tony Joseph and Bob Mattison.

Led by the respective top three performers, Joe Blatchford, Alan Call, and Captain Bob Hill, Normandy's net squad virtually cinched Bay League this year and were eying C.I.F. honors at press time. Coach Steve Miletich's nine was sweeping aside all opposition, defeating Fairfax, Hollywood, Compton, Torrance, U.S.C. Frosh, and Samohi's C.I.F. Champs—squeezing past the latter, 5-4, in the crucial league match.

Letters were awarded to Dick Ackerman, Joe Blatchford, Al Call, Dick Cohen, Ed Covey, Bob Hill, Buzz Jewett, Bob Kierbow, Tony Landau, Paul Selwyn, Eric Wittenberg, and Mike Franks and Al Praeger, two fast-rising freshmen. Others participating were Roger Behrstock, Mal Grant, George Le Maire, Jon Rose, and Stan Silverman.

Outstanding honors have been won by graduating Beverly netters Al Call and Bob Hill. Call achieved four stripes, was elected captain, and earned C.I.F. doubles honors; while Hill garnered three letters, was captain, and attained C.I.F. Varsity doubles. Many more honors were expected to be won by this two-some after press time. Selwyn (2 years) and Jewett, Ackerman, and Wittenberg (3 years) were other valuable graduating team members who had competed on the Norman tennis team since they were freshmen—Ackerman and Wittenberg at doubles and Jewett and Selwyn at singles.

Outstanding men at the plate were Catcher Mike Forrest and First-Baseman Fred Caso, whose timely slugging was an important factor in the squad's victories. Most improved man on the squad was Ted Robinson, who was moved from short-stop to the outfield, where he played outstanding ball.

Coach John Marrow and his 1951 matmen ended their season with a rather average record and a final fourth place in Bay League. Redondo took first place with 57 points, Inglewood second with 54, Leuzinger third with 44, and Beverly fourth with 37 points.

Jerry Rosenberg, who garnered 70 points throughout the season, winning high point laurels, won for his division a place in the Beverly Hills Novice Tourney. Varsity lettermen were Alschuler, Edelson, Gilmore, Gross, Hansen, Katz, Langendorf, Mattison, Miller, Newman, Schuetz, and Wolfe. Those who earned J. Prelims Jerry and Harvey Minden and Art Stauffer finished among the first twenty-five. Others placing in C.I.F were Howard Scott, Ronnie Siegel, and Jack Wiggins.

Under the direction of Coach Steve Miletich the 1951 divot diggers tied for first place in the final Bay League standing with Inglewood and at press time were eying a possible chance for the C.I.F. crown.

Fred Brown, a four year letterman in the sport and captain of the team, was a consistent high scorer on the squad, carding in the low 70's most of the time. Turbow and Meriwether followed Brown, carding in the high 70's and low 80's respectively. Rounding out the crew were Arkin, Burton, Meena, Perlmuth, and Stein, all of whom shot in the low 90's.

With G.A.A. uppermost in their minds, President Lynn Awan, Sponsor Mrs. Bow, and President Joneen Tettemer map out future plans.

G.A.A. Features

During the fall and winter quarters Lynn Awan, G.A.A. president, inaugurated something new—monthly meetings of the entire organization. At these meetings Lynn, with the help of the board, arranged to have guest speakers and entertainers appear at the gatherings. Joneen Tettemer took over the gavel at the end of January to follow Lynn's plans for the organization. Joneen led a philanthropy drive for the Children's Baptist Home near Inglewood, and in March Beverly High played host to the second G.A.A. Bay League Council.

Highlighting the year's activities was the long to be remembered "U.S.S. Normandy," the annual Spinster's Hop. The Swim Gym, decorated in the motif of a luxury liner, drew scores of Norman couples to dance to the music of Dick Telane and his Band of Fame.

These memory pages of the WATCHTOWER must record the annual tennis progressive dinner, where G.A.A. members had a wonderful evening traveling to different homes.

Good food was also remembered at the spring banquet, when the presentations of sports' awards were made to the deserving girls.

Representing a greater part of Beverly's spirit were the 70 girls on the Drill Team, which performed before the rooters at football games. These girls were managed and led by Sue Rosenfelder, who was assisted by Connie Schuster. The flag girls were Eileen Botwick, Luana Colquitt, Elaine Meitus, Teddy Morris, Phyllis Robbins, Carole Rosenberg, and Nancy Wolvin.

Mrs. Marillyn Bow, the new faculty sponsor, explained that the girls became members by competitive tryouts and were judged on co-ordination, grace, rhythm, and skill.

If one were to enter the girls' gym during fifth period, she would see a group of graceful girls known as the Terpsichoreans, modern dance group of the G.A.A. Miss Mary Ann Whitmore, who instructed the girls in all their productions, said that the group has greatly progressed in the learning of advanced techniques and choreography.

In February some of the Terpsies traveled to Redlands College, where they witnessed a dance symposium and participated in an hour and one half period of modern dancing, led by a world renowned dancer.

Participants came from El Segundo High School and ably performed three water ballets before enthusiastic Norman onlookers.

Beverly's share of the program was highlighted with an authentic square dance, complete with a caller. Miss Janet Patey, faculty supervisor, coached the girls in their routines, which were all enacted to music.

Volleyball

Among the many and varied sports offered in the Girls' Athletic Association program this year, volleyball took one of the top places in the popularity poll. Despite the distracting shouts and yells of their team-mates, the girls succeeded in gaining skill in serving hard flung balls over the net.

Under the management of June Ferrer and the faculty supervision of Mrs. Marillyn Bow, the members of the team made a terrific showing during the quarter. A volleyball playday was held at Santa Monica High early in the first semester.

MANAGER: E. Hill.

Determination makes a winning team and Beverly's netmaids really had it this season. Smashing their way to one victory after another, the girls emerged victorious in all games but one practice match. The girls came up with the Bay League championship for the second successive year.

Tops on the tennis agenda was the sixth annual Invitational Tennis Tournament, in which six schools sent delegates to represent them in first and second doubles. Evelyn Hill was the student manager and Mrs. Marjorie Sturges acted as the faculty adviser.

"Watch out for the birdie! Look—it's flying too low and it's going to hit you in the head!" The past conversation isn't taking place in an aviary That's just the typical lingo of the girls in the G.A.A. badminton class. Coached by Mrs. Marillyn Bow and Miss Mary Ann Whitmore, the girls joined in competition with each other and practiced to improve their skill.

The white-clad, racquet wielding members of the badminton class succeeded, not only in becoming proficient in the lively sport, but in enjoying the activity tremendously.

That fabulous man in history with the inevitable apple on his head, William Tell, had nothing on the members of this year's archery class. The "zing" of a bow string signified the presence of girl archers. The factor responsible for the often-pierced bull's eye was the expert instruction by Mrs. Marjorie Sturges.

The absence of inter-school competition and the lack of a manager to represent them on the board by no means deterred these bow-women with their arrows and quivers from perfecting their aim, stance, and shooting position.

Basketball

Basketball is one sport that Beverly's femmes really go for. Eager to learn the tactics of good basketball, some 53 girls signed up for the sixth period class. Mrs. Marillyn Bow instructed the group on the rules and regulations of the game.

When the season opened, after school practices, supervised by Miss Janet Patey and Miss Mary Ann Whitmore, were held to determine which girls were to participate in an All-Bay-League basketball tournament. Beverly sent four teams to represent the school at the tourney, which was held at Inglewood in March.

Two hockey teams, captained by Juniors Sally Beckwith and Marilynn Young, were the pride of the Girls' Athletic Association when they came home victorious from the Leuzinger Hockey Playday, held early in January. The scores resulted in a 2-0 victory and one tie for the Normans.

Managed by Jeanne Curry, the teams met twice a week for afternoon practice in order to prepare for their playday. Smiling faces, sore arms, and battered shin guards were the proof that the long hours of practice really did help shape a winning team.

Batting their way into the end of the season were some fifty girls who participated in softball activities. Managed by Barbara Holt these ballplayers were divided into teams and engaged in intramural play. So enthusiastic were the girls in their cooperation and practicing that they proved to be stiff competition for their opponents.

Beverly Hills High School sent four teams to the softball playday at Mira Costa for the annual Bay League shindig held in May. Mrs. Marillyn Bow umpired the close plays at home plate.

TOP ROW: R. Siegel, L. Sherman, M. Nelson, S. King, S. Rosenfelder, K. Schumacher. SECOND ROW: S. Buffinger, J. Rosenberg, S. Edelman, L. Isaacs, S. Daré, J. Rude. THIRD ROW: D. Macdonald, D. This Is Our Vision . . .

"Listen to the Exhortation of the Dawn!
Look to this Day!
For it is Life, the very Life of Life.
In its brief course let all the Verities
and Realities of your Existence:
The Bliss of Growth,
The Glory of Action,
The Splendor of Beauty.
For Yesterday is but a Dream,
And Tomorow is only a Vision;
But Today well lived makes every
Yesterday a Dream of Happiness,
And every Tomorrow a Vision of Hope.
Look well therefore of this Day!
Such is the Salutation of the Dawn."
